Another firm has decided to join the real estate office on the east side of Broadway, between Twenty-third and Twenty-fifth streets. A. J. Snyder, one of the most prominent New York estate officers, will move from his present quarters at Twenty-second and Thirtieth streets, on or about February 1st. Snyder will occupy one of the new offices adjoining the national syndicate office row. When the Lawrence Real Estate Company moved out of Eighth street, the building was vacated by the syndicate building in the upper Broadway district. It was forewarned that it would be used as an office in the building on the northwest corner of Eighth and Broadway for many years but he soon left and locate up town in the present location. The new headquarters quarters many new changes will be made in the office arrangements and a material increase will also be made to the office staff. The new building is a fine structure in modern style and the new location will be quite a convenience to the public. Plans are being made to remove the prop- erty and fixtures in real estate.

MILE OF FENCE

City

The record time for fencing lands was made in Oakland yesterday afternoon when a corps of one hundred men under an able general strung a five tier barbed wire fence around fifteen acres of land using fifteen miles of wire in five hours.

The land is property owned by George M. Davis a San Francisco attorney, and is bounded by College avenue, Pleasant Valley and Viola streets, and according to the statement of Oakland attorney Milton Shephardson is worth about $300,000.

Since the acquisition of the property Mr. Davis has been bothered by a group of men having tax titles on the property to the amount of about $20,000. To defeat these men Mr. Davis through his lawyer planned a coup yesterday in having the property fenced so as to strengthen his claims of possession and location.

A fencing company of which George F. Otis is one of the managers was given the contract for the job with instructions to break all speed records. Yesterday several large car loads of wire which aggregated five miles in length was quickly hauled to vantage points near the scene. Then by two and three nearly a hundred men gathered for the work and at a signal shortly after one o'clock a concerted attack was made on the work. Dirt flew thick and fast out of the five hundred post holes needed and men under a band of directors placed the posts and inside of five hours the tract was enclosed.

Everyone who witnessed the work and the fence men themselves admitted it was a record performance. Last night attorney Shephardson was jubilant over the victory attained and his clients rivals and steadfastly denied a rumor that the land belonged to the city.

The next move will be in the courts.

Deny Story That Southern Pacific Company Will Acquire System

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8.—J. Ross Clark, vice-president of the Salt Lake Road, today issued a statement that there is no truth in the report that the Southern Pacific is about to acquire full control of the Salt Lake Road. Rumors to the effect that the Salt Lake Road after repairs have been completed, would no longer be operated as an independent line, but as the Salt Lake extension of the Southern Pacific, were denounced by Mr. Clark as being without the slightest foundation.

SAN LEANDRO BANK
ABSORBS ITS RIVAL

SAN LEANDRO, Jan. 8.—The Bank of San Leandro has secured control of the San Leandro Bank of Savings and the two will be consolidated under the name of the Bank of San Leandro. The newly formed institution plans to erect a modern office building on the site which it now occupies at the corner of Highway and Estrella avenues. The new officers of the bank will be chosen from the former directors of the two institutions.

Canal Cost, $500,000,000
Rains Delay Completion

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The cost of the Panama canal, according to Congressman John W. Langley of Kentucky, who returned today from the canal zone on the steamship Colon, will be nearly $500,000,000.

Langley made an exhaustive examination of the work and found that great progress had been made since his previous visit, about three years ago. He said:

"If I ever had any lingering doubts as to the completion of the canal they were dispelled by what I saw on this trip.

"I doubt, however, if the canal will be ready for business by January 1, 1915, as has been predicted. The unusual length of the rainy season this year and last, will, in my opinion, postpone its completion beyond that date."

Factions Into Rival Camps,
Battling to Finish

By Ralph M. Whiteside

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The lines are now boldly drawn and from the peppering of skirmishes the battle between the insurgents and the regulars in Congress has grown into open warfare.

Every member of Congress who heretofore discreetly kept his allegiance in the background, came forward of necessity today. Some moved only a few inches, but others pitched headlong into the Cannon camp, the Taft camp, the Pinchot camp or some other bivouac, representing either insurgency or irregularity. It is evident that there can be no halfway business. The defeat of Speaker Cannon in the House when he tried to name the investigators of the Ballinger-Pinchot row himself, the dismissal of Forester Pinchot and his assistants and substantial reports of withheld patronage, make it imperative for every Congressman now to be known to his colleagues either as a regular or an insurgent.

Among some of the western representatives there are harsh words. President Taft for dismissing Pinchot. They claim he was an efficient servant of the people and it was zeal and earnestness instead of arrogance that caused him to say and do things which were displeasing in some quarters.

ROOSEVELT LOOMS UP. Among the regulars there were notes of congratulation. "Let us have the soft pedal and avowal with somnolence," they say. But while the fireworks are popping in Washington, the horizon is obscured with the gigantic figure of a man wearing eye-glasses and a khaki uniform, his teeth prominent beneath a drooping mustache, alert and restless. Some of the most farsighted already recognize this figure as Grover Cleveland Roosevelt, the ex-president, termed the savior of insurgency and the firebrand of the United States.

CANNON STORM CENTER. Speaker Cannon was the maelstrom's center today. Many callers upon President Taft spoke in energetic terms when mentioning the name of the Illinois statesman. And while President Taft listened he figuratively removed his coat for he is in the fight to a finish.

Senator Barrows of Michigan was among the callers at the White House. When he left he said: "We now know who is President of the United States."

Representative Morgan came from the Illinois House and stopped long enough to say: "The fight is now in the open and Mr. Taft wants to see it finished once for all."

Representative Foster, a Democrat from Illinois, declared that Taft had no alternative but to oust the forester. This came from a Pinchot supporter, for Foster had always been friendly toward Pinchot.

FUTURE AMBITIONS. It is conceded by Republicans and Democrats alike that the ousting of Pinchot is the most momentous thing which could happen to the Taft administration. Why? Because Col. Roosevelt's future ambitions were said to be fostered in the effect of the Pinchot agitation. The shadow of Roosevelt drops from the political horizon as strongly as though he were not in Africa stalking white rhinos.

STRUGGLE AT PRESENT TIME

Forester Gifford Pinchot dismissed. Insurgents shut off from patronage. Speaker Cannon suffers first defeat in not being allowed by House to name investigators of Ballinger-Pinchot controversy. Pinchot's loyal subordinates fired. Roosevelt looms upon the horizon as a more potential factor than ever. President Taft jeopardizes his popularity in some sections of the West. The most protechnical session of Congress ever held, even outclassing the Rooseveltian tribunals.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 8.—Driven almost insane by jealousy upon discovering that his wife's young sister had an admirer, and further enraged by liquor, Henry Roth, aged 32, this afternoon fired two shots into the woman's body, fatally wounding her, and then sent a bullet crashing into his own heart, killing himself instantly.

The victim of Roth's jealousy lies in her death is expected momentarily. The shooting occurred at the Roth home and it was only through flight that Mrs. Emma Roth, wife of the man, succeeded in escaping.

The tragedy was the culmination of a long series of quarrels in which Roth, his wife and Miss Lear, the victim, figured. The suicide made no secret of his love for the young woman.

Says There Is Great
Future for West Indies

HAVANA, Jan. 8.—Secretary of War James B. Dickinson, who arrived here this morning from Santiago, spent a busy day receiving visitors at the Hotel Miramar, attending a reception and reviewing the troops at Camp Columbia.

"While this trip is strictly one of official business, I have enjoyed it very much," said Secretary Dickinson at the American Club. "I have found conditions in Porto Rico in excellent shape. It is impossible for me to speak of the matter of citizenship, for my ideas will later be embodied in my report, but I will say that there seems to be a great future for the West Indies."

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—J. E. Smith, 65 years old residing at 874 Turk street, was run down and perhaps fatally injured by an automobile at the corner of Van Ness and 24th avenues this afternoon. The machine did not stop to take account of the injured man's hurts and he was picked up in another car by Dr. M. L. Rannard, and brought to the Central Emergency Hospital.

Smith is suffering from a wound of the scalp and possible fracture of the skull.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—New York financiers who have been planning a combination of the Peoples Water Company in Oakland, Cal., with the Bay Cities Water Company to supply the city of Oakland, announced today that they had abandoned the deal as the result of an investigation made by J. G. White & Company, which disclosed the fact that the Peoples water Company does not have sufficient water to justify the combination as planned.

"Our estimate of earnings and of the amount of money which will be involved in the consolidation and betterment and extensions," say White & Company in their report, "do not justify us in recommending the proposition to you."

White & Company also say that the legal opinions submitted are not satisfactory "to warrant us in advising you that the water rights are in as satisfactory shape as they should be for undertaking so important an enterprise."

A GROWING MARKET. There are certain conflicts of ownership of parts of drainage areas. It develops that during the latter part of 1916 the Peoples Water Company will face the condition of a rapidly growing market and a deficient and deteriorating water supply. That company is at present short of water and even the expenditure of above $3,000,000 as proposed will leave them in a similar condition in 1918.

"As I have stated before," said Frank A. Leach, president of the Peoples Water Company last night when shown the above dispatch, "I have no knowledge that the company is in the market for sale. So far as the dispatch goes if there has been negotiations by the board of directors with any person, I know nothing of it, officially or personally. In my opinion it is probable promoters may have dickered with individual stockholders in the hope of finding a purchaser."

"I do not care to discuss the matter any further," he added, "except to emphasize the fact that there will be no trouble in 1916 or any other time for the company to supply all the water required. The Peoples Water Company will be able to handle all conditions that arise."

Romance of the Days of the Civil War

CORNING, Ia., Jan. 8.—Mrs. C. H. Moore of Fresno, Cal., was married here to M. V. Spencer of Corning under peculiarly romantic circumstances. Fifty-two years ago Mrs. Moore was one of the brides and Spencer one of the grooms at a double wedding. Moore and Spencer and the girls who then became their wives had been children together and it was known from the time that their engagements were announced that they were to be married at the same time. Soon after the double wedding was celebrated the two young husbands enlisted in the army and went South. Moore followed her spouse to the South and was near him and Spencer for some time. She was near them when the battle of Harper's Ferry was fought and later she nursed both men when they lay wounded in a Southern hospital.

Some years after the war Mrs. Moore's husband died and Spencer lost his. Mrs. Moore and Spencer had not seen each other for forty years, when a short time ago they met by chance and fell in love at each other's feet. A few days ago Mrs. Moore came East from California to marry the friend of her childhood.

MARTINEZ, Jan. 8.—More than ever convinced that the unknown man whom he arrested in a running battle through the streets of this place yesterday morning, is the famous and long wanted "Drug-Store hold-up man," of San Francisco, Deputy Sheriff Veale is tonight making every effort to ascertain the identity of the prisoner.

The suspicions of the police were first aroused by the striking similarity of the man with the descriptions of the much sought bandit. Tonight he lent further confirmation to the theory by his refusal to give any further information concerning himself, and it is thought that his reluctance to take chloroform is induced by the fear that under the influence of the drug, he might make damaging admissions.

He appears to be perfectly willing, however, to permit the doctors to probe for the bullet, and has inquired once or twice whether it was believed he would recover.

THROAT IS CAPTURED.

O'Neil was captured by Deputy Sheriff R. F. Veale, early yesterday afternoon after a running pistol fight. The man was discovered with two others selling fake jewelry on the street, and when officers approached by his refusal to give any further information concerning himself, and it is thought that his reluctance to take chloroform is induced by the fear that under the influence of the drug, he might make damaging admissions.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8.—A dispatch from Wheeling, W. Va., says that Roberta de Janon, the missing heiress, was hurled in front of a Baltimore & Ohio train at Bentwood Junction today by a man whose identity has not been established. The girl, who was dressed in male attire, was instantly killed. The man escaped. The police are hunting for him.

The affections of Frederick Cohen, the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel waiter, who disappeared at the same time and did the 35-year-old heiress to the fortune of Robert B. de Janon, in the opinion of Cohen's wife, are worth $50,000. A few days ago Mrs. Cohen was quoted as saying that her husband might go and be welcome to his fight—she only wanted him to sign papers. But today Mrs. Cohen made public her formal intention of suing Mrs. Buiat, as Roberta's guardian, for $50,000, for the alienation of her husband's affections.

MAY BE IN HIDING. Although Robert Buiat denies that the girl has been found, persons in a position to know say the girl has been found, and is in the keeping of friends. There is a person, however, that the aged millionaire will keep the girl secluded until the scandal attached to her name has been wiped down.

Mrs. Cohen, who returned from New York Monday, says she has learned from her home and her brother, Smithfield Martin, said he did not expect her to return.

In contrast to her former complaints is given the reason for her departure. Mrs. Cohen has been suggested that Mrs. Cohen has gone to join her husband.

Accepting this view of the kidnapping, further credible information is that old Robert Buiat, unrelenting to a degree of vindictiveness, is not content with the recovery of his granddaughter. He seeks the punishment of those described as principals in a sensational plot to extort a large sum of money from him.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Mrs. Genevieve Garvan Brady, young widow of Nicholas P. Brady, vice-president of the Edison Electric Company, and son of Anthony M. Brady, submitted to an operation for blood transfusion in Hartford, Conn., today to save the life of her brother, Senator Judge Edward J. Garvan.

Mrs. Brady is a sister of Francis J. Garvan, former Assistant Attorney General of this city. Her father is former State Senator Patrick Garvan of Hartford.

The transfusion was so successful that Judge Garvan walked home, and walked enough to undergo an operation for appendicitis.

NATIONAL SPECIALISTS TO DISCUSS NEEDS OF THE UNEMPLOYED IN COUNTRY

PLAN TO GIVE EVERYONE WORK

J. Eades Howe, "King of Hoboes," Is to Preside at Coming Convention

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Plans to secure legislation for the employment of every person in the United States will be made at the big convention of unemployed to be held here January 24 to 31.

"More than a million persons in the country are out of work during these supposedly good times," said Mrs. Cora D. Harvey today, national secretary of the organization.

"I cannot tell you the exact number for I have not the figures, but on a conservative estimate there are more than 50,000 out of work in Chicago and more than 100,000 in New York."

Representatives from all nations have been invited to come to Chicago to take part in the convention. Among those invited are Lloyd George, the English Chancellor; Winston Churchill, the English novelist; and James Bryce, several prominent English suffragettes also have been asked to attend the convention.

Prominent German and Swedish socialists are also included among the invited guests.

HOBOS KING PRESIDES. "King of the Hoboes," J. Eades Howe, known as "King of the Hoboes," will preside at the meeting.

Charity organizations were severely rebuked by Mrs. Harvey, while she was speaking on the forthcoming meeting. "They are supposed to aid those suffering," she said. "They do nothing of the kind. The officials know little of the real work to be done. It is not charity that is wanted. It is work. Give these men work. They all want it."

"Many will tell you that most of these men do not want work. They say that they all do, every one. They want to under the right conditions which we have not got now. I admit that many of these men now out of a job are incompetent, but they have been made so by the system. If they had had chances from the time they were children, they would not be in such a condition. But most of them can work if given a chance. We propose to see that the state provides for men with work. Those who have gone past the stage where they can do excellent labor should be given a pension. We hope to secure such a law."

Of the 50,000 out of work in Chicago, according to Mrs. Harvey, 10,000 of the number are women.

CHICAGO'S UNEMPLOYED. "There certainly are more than 10,000 women and girls out of employment in Chicago," she said. "They would like to get work but not because of the system. Babies are going without first-class nourishment for this reason. Scores are starving. Yes, actually starving right here in Chicago, and more than double that number in New York."

"It isn't the individual that is responsible. There are few men who, if they see any one suffering the pangs of hunger, but that would reach in their pocket for money. It is the system. We are so eager to grab the dollar we do not care what we do not know, and seemingly we do not care what our neighbor is doing. They starve to death on the door to us and we know nothing of it. It is time we woke up. We want a new system. A system by which men can work and earn their bread. It isn't charity we want for these men and women. It is simply a chance to earn their living, to be paid bread for their work, to be paid by the sweat of their brow. They have not even the chance at present."

DEMANDS OF CONGRESS. The convention will pass a resolution, according to Mrs. Harvey, demanding that Congress pass a law provide work for all out of work who ask it. Only regularly appointed delegates from the various cities of the country, and the floor at the convention, but the doors will be thrown open to all who are expected that thousands of unemployed in Chicago will be present.

Mrs. Sophie Leason, of New York, is scheduled as one of the chief speakers. Mrs. Howe, St. Louis, Nicholas Klein, Cincinnati and Professor Will of Washington will be among the speakers. Some of the themes to be discussed are "Away From Destitution," "Charity Doing Nothing."

CLEVER COUPLE GET WEALTH IN JEWELS

Swindle Paris Merchants When Posing as Descendants of Royalty

PARIS, Jan. 8.—All the leading jewelers of the Rue de la Paix are relating their misfortunes. After Lemoine had shown how easy it was to extort thousands of pounds from the keenest of financiers and business men, it is now a youth, little more than a boy, who has proved that it is harder to borrow five dollars in America sometimes than to steal a small fortune by sheer impudence in Paris.

The accused couple—for the prisoners are man and wife—have had an adventurous career which would be deemed extravagant and beyond all possibility if presented as a novel. Othmar Karl Gubata is a tall, beardless youth of twenty, born in Austria of humble parents. The "Countess" Gubata is twice his age, and a handsome woman, American by parentage, and speaking French well, whereas the "Archduke" knows through an interpreter who knew little more French than the accused Othmar began life as a scullery boy, and after robbing his own family, he assumed the title of count for a while, but shortly transformed himself into an archduke, and set out on his travels under that style and title. At the age of seventeen he visited New York, but returned to Vienna, where he was sentenced to a short term for false papers.

MEET IN CALIFORNIA. In 1907 he was in California, where he again fell foul of justice, and met his future wife, a widow calling herself de Barche. They traveled about Europe in motors and finally rented a luxurious villa at Auzanne, in the Pyrenees, from which country, however, they were shortly expelled.

IMPUDENT IMPERSONATION. Returning to America, they were married in New York in 1908, and were next heard of in Louisiana, where they exploited a rich Russian by representing the archduke Otto and Archduchess Maria Josefa. How this absurd impersonation ever imposed on anybody it is impossible to explain, as a glance at "Gotha" would have revealed the deception, but everybody he met seems to have immediately credited the tale. The woman, even before the tale, persisted in asserting that she had never been married, and her husband was really the son of the archduke Otto. Last September at once took a sumptuous suite of apartments in one of the most expensive hotels in Paris. Here, Mme. "the Archduchess," through the Duchess d'Andrie, was recommended to M. Fontana, a leading jeweler, to whom she stated that she was an Austrian princess.

ONLY PROOF A PICTURE. The only "proof" she seems to have offered to her friend, the jeweler, or to the Court circles whom she alleged to be her friends, was the portrait of a lady here named Josefa, the Archduchess Maria Josefa. It was sufficient, however, for M. Fontana to send her $300,000 worth of jewels (most of which pearls, valued at $250,000, which were passed on to a brother jeweler for $150,000 and sold by him to a client for $200,000 the next day. All these concerns voyaged the next day. In perfect good faith, which shows that strange things must happen in Paris when such transactions are considered as normal. M. Fontana excused his inattention by the fact he had in the in-

Golden Pheasants Worth $2500 Used for Pie

PARIS, Jan. 8.—Prince Murat, who has a large property at Chamblay, about an hour's journey from Paris, lost from his preserves 100 golden pheasants worth at least $24 each, and what is more, the birds were stolen by three of his own cooks, who made them into pies and sold them to different people. One of the purchasers was the prince's head cook, who had no idea that the pies had been made in his own kitchen from birds of such value. The three thieves are now in prison.

HUMAN DIRELECT DRIFTS IN MASS OF WRECKAGE
CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 8.—The sole survivor of the crew of the schooner Gov. Ames, bound from Brunswick, Ga., to New York, with a cargo of cross ties, which grounded and went to pieces off Winyah shoals, twenty-five miles north of Cape Hatteras, Monday afternoon, was a Nova Scotia boy named Josiah Spearling, a seaman. He was picked up from a mass of floating timbers by the steamship Glawmut coming to this port from Philadelphia, and was brought here tonight. Capt. A. Swenson, of the Shawmut, on Tuesday morning, about 7 o'clock, discovered a figure signaling on a mass of wreckage. The steamer was about two miles away, but immediately hastened to where the wreckage lay. The sea was too heavy to lower a boat, but a ladder was thrown over the side of the vessel and Spearling climbed aboard—Philadelphia Press.

and elephants but right here in Washington with his whip stirring congressmen into frenzy.

CRITICISE TAFT.
Some of Taft's best friends hold him at fault, and declare he should not have ousted Forester Pinchot until a congressional investigation of his charges has been made. Suppose the Pinchot allegations or irregularity in the office of Secretary Ballinger should result in an unexpected verdict?

What then would be the position of President Taft?
In this instance, they say, Mr. Taft took upon himself the office of judge and jury, finding the plaintiff guilty of false charges before the charges could be investigated.

END NOT YET.
Of course, the President acted largely upon the report of Attorney General Wickersham, who charged Overton Price and A. C. Shaw with exaggerated egotism.
The end of the struggle is not nearly in sight. Both sides moved restlessly today, gathering momentum. There were conferences in every hotel tonight.

CRITICAL HOUR IN THE FIGHT AGAINST
CANNON AT HAND

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Both sides to the struggle realize that the critical hour is at hand in the fight against Cannon and Cannon rule of the House. Hasty conferences were held early this morning by Cannon lieutenants. As a result there was a rush of telegrams to absent organization Republicans, compelling their prompt return to Washington. When the next vote on the resolution of inquiry is had there will be few if any absentees on the Republican side of the House.

TAYLOR THROWS BOMB.
Representative Taylor of Ohio threw a bomb into the organization camp by announcing that he was opposed to Speaker Cannon. The insurgents count on him for the next vote. Taylor has been honored by Cannon with a place on the Committee on Appropriations, but his Ohio constituents have notified him he may not support Cannon as a member in Congress. Representatives Cohn, Howland and Douglas of Ohio occupy much the same position and the insurgent leaders are hopeful as to them.

The Democratic leaders are busy strengthening their fences. A recall message has been rushed to Champ Clark, leader, now in Missouri helping to select and elect a successor to David A. de Armond of Colorado. The Republican leaders are recalled. There are three Democratic vacancies in the House—De Armond, Lassiter of Virginia and Griggs of Georgia. Successors to De Armond and Lassiter will be elected this month. The districts are open upon him.

DEMOCRATS SOLID.
Champ Clark recently announced with pardonable pride that the Democratic ranks in the House were united as they had not been in years. Republican leaders said today that they could count on at least five Democratic votes to help them out on the next test of strength. They would give no names, but indications point to Moon of Tennessee, Estlin of Louisiana, Martin of Colorado, Kellher and O'Connell of Massachusetts as among the Democratic suspects.

The Republican vote of the House is 219; the Democratic vote with three vacancies, 169. The insurgents have 28 votes certain, with the chances of one or two recruits from Ohio. With the 29 insurgent votes taken from the Republicans, they have 190 votes for Cannon. If all the Democrats stand fast the combined insurgent and Democratic strength is 197. The fight is on as to whether Cannon can get sufficient Democratic assistance to overcome this majority of eight and the threatened growth of insurgent strength. The insurgents will meet Monday to perfect their plans and to solidify their lines.

This country cannot afford to have it said or thought that it is aiming to control the internal politics of Central America. Whatever personal difficulties there may have been with Zelaya are now out of the way, and the Washington government has nothing whatever to do in Nicaragua but to await developments.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

FICKERT TAKES
LANGDON'S PLACE

New Officials Installed in the District Attorney's Office

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—As the time bell on the flagpole of the Hotel Fairmont dropped at 12 noon yesterday the outgoing attaches of the District Attorney's office watched until it fell to the bottom and then gave three cheers for Charles M. Fickert, the incoming District Attorney. In response Fickert and his associates gave three cheers for Langdon and of the two demonstrations the latter one was reminder of a class reunion. Practically all of the assistants in Fickert's office are Stanford graduates and consequently there was some uniformity in the cheering.

The important work attached to the transfer was that of introducing the incoming officials in their respective places of duty. Langdon himself accompanied Fickert around the courts presided over by Judges Lawlor, Chaney and Dunne. In each of the courts Langdon made an opening speech, paying his compliments to both his successor and the court. Langdon will open law offices in this city, with Louis Barrett as his partner.

SOUTH SIDE RESIDENTS
FORM IMPROVEMENT CLUB

A new improvement club has been organized in Oakland. It is called the South Side Improvement Club, and its members consist of property owners in that section of the city.

What the club means business is evident from the business discussed at the initial meeting. Strong talks were made calling attention to the poorly paved streets in that section of the city and requesting the Council to remedy this. The club also strongly indorsed the installing of electroliner service on Lower Washington street, from Seventh to Third streets, at least. At Third street the Western Pacific has erected its depot. The club also asks that all sidewalk obstructions and awnings on the line of that street be removed, on the ground that they are unsightly and a menace to person and property and a hindrance to the erection of substantial and permanent buildings.

These officers were elected: President

WALDORF ASTOR BIDS FOR BRITISH PEERAGE

LONDON, Jan. 8.—With a possible peerage in sight and a chance to see his son a member of Parliament from Plymouth, William Waldorf Astor has flung himself into the general election campaign in England with more enthusiasm than he has expressed in a long time. Not only has Astor contributed liberally to the Conservative campaign fund, for upon the success of the Conservatives depends whatever chance there is for a peerage for him, but he has turned from the ranks of the Sorentos for the party and has

NO SHACKS IN THE FIRE DISTRICT IN SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7. —Well, you should hear our merchant class roaring about Mayor McCarthy! There hasn't been such a fine grouch given expression in any a long day. They say they have exchanged King Log for King Stork with a vengeance.

The merchant class supported McCarthy, just as they supported Schmitz in his time. They supported him on the theory that he would hop, step and jump to the order of the corporation managers. And now they find he will not take orders at all. He hit the railroads a mild tap in the Geary-street matter; but it was nothing to the swat—the haymaker—he has put over on Spring Valley.

That was a bolt from the blue, and it dropped the stock $8 a share the next day. Now, if you will figure on the number of shares in Spring Valley you can easily figure the value of that McCarthy address before the Building Trades Council. There are few men whose words have been as golden as those of McCarthy.

But many of our merchants had (and have) Spring Valley stock. They were in to make a big turn. The stock will sell for $65 when the people vote those bonds—if they do. It will not be over $40 if the people don't vote the bonds. So you see what McCarthy's speech meant to those merchants—and hence these tears.

"We put him there, and now see what he has done to us," wail these merchants; and as the boycotts multiply up and down, the boycott donkeys are in front of many doors, the wail increases in volume and intensity.

No Shacks in the Fire Limit District

"You're wrong about the Mayor letting the property owners put up shacks in the fire-limit district," said a leading insurance man to me this week.

"How so?" I asked. "You know, D. S. Dorn is close to McCarthy, and he is at the head of the association that is engaged in trying to get the fire-limit ordinance amended so wooden buildings may be erected in the district between Van Ness avenue and Powell street."

"That's all true," was the reply. "But what if the city authorities give permission for the shacks—that will not count at all. There is no use in building a wooden building in the district unless you can get tenants for it. And you can't get tenants for it unless they can get insurance. And the insurance companies have decided they will not write any insurance except in brick buildings in all that territory. So Dorn and his crowd may as well get their work going on brick buildings and stop fooling with politics in an effort to build shacks on their property. No brick buildings, no insurance; no insurance, no tenants."

The Laughable Democrats

It begins to look as though the Democrats and the Lincoln-Roosevelt League leaders had some sort of an understanding in the coming campaign to get out and swat the railroad at every turn in the hope of a rabble-rousing. Do you notice that the leaders of the Republican faction and the Democrats have already mapped out a similar plan of campaign?

But the Democratic conference on the subject was quite ludicrous. As one wag put it:

"The 65 Democratic editors of the State were invited to come to San Francisco and denounce the railroad, and none of 'em could get here unless Herrin issued passes. Then, led by those roaring anti-monopolists, Ed Leake and Jim Wilkins, they thundered at the iniquities of Herrin and the dread influence of Jere Burke. The Democratic legislators, most of whom 'reported on' regularly last session, joined in the chorus, with Senators Hare and Tom Kennedy leading. Really, it is to laugh."

Some of the War Horses

There has been some effort to get Washington Dodge to run for Governor on the Democratic ticket, but he shakes his head. As for Theodore Bell, he is at odds with both McNab and the labor leaders; so he hasn't the ghost of a show. M. F. Tarpey would have been just the man this year, but he declared for Taft in the last campaign. Jim O'Brien says that if the Democrats will put up Ed White of Watsonville—a farmer—all the lawyers can stay at home and sew buttons on their trousers. Wm. T. Jeter, of Santa Cruz, is another of those considered by independent Democrats. Senator E. O. Miller of Visalia longs for the post of honor. But the old habit of blundering is sure to trip up the party again, and it gets to be of less and less importance what the leaders do or who they select to carry the banner of Democracy to another defeat. No new man has come up with any electrifying promise, and the people seem to be tired of the old war-horses who have champed on so many stricken fields.

THE KNAVE

WHEN MAUD LILLIAN BERRI, ACTRESS, WAS A 'GOOD FELLOW'

On Top Once More

One does not have to be very old to recall the bad days when advertisements for "help" concluded with "No Irish need apply." We have broadened far beyond that narrow spirit; but during the Schmitz-Ruef regime there were times when it seemed that the old sign was about to be hung out over the fattest offices.

Now, note that all is changed. In the list of McCarthy appointments and the Board of Supervisors selections as heads of committees, certainly the Irish-Americans have come into their own. What a green island tang the names of the new Commissioners have! Michael Casey, Dick Whelan, Harry Flannery, Joe Sullivan, Johnny Hare. And here are committee heads whose origin never will be mistaken: John Kelly, Billy Pugh, Charlie Nelson, Johnny Herget, Tim Healey, Johnny McLaughlin, Tom O'Dowd, Johnny Walsh, Con Deasy and Clerk Bill Hagerty. No doubt the real politicians—the natural politicians—are on top again, and we ought soon to be having some old-fashioned political news.

The Widow's Revenge

When the head of Fire Chief Shaughnessy falls into the McCarthy basket and another is appointed to "run wid de masheen" it will be the culmination of a woman's revenge, and at least one heart will be glad. That woman is the widow of the late Chief Sullivan, who lost his life in the big earthquake, just at a time when his genius and resourcefulness might have saved the city from the great disaster of the fire.

Well, Shaughnessy was a protege of Sullivan, and his succession to the chieftainship seemed natural. But as time went on it seemed that Shaughnessy forgot his old friend. Once there was an effort to get a Sullivan partisan something in the department and the widow backed the request.

"No!" petulantly responded Shaughnessy. "There's too darn much Sullivan in the department already!"

This came back to the widow and she and her friends have been after the scalp of Shaughnessy ever since. It is said they are to get it.

Do You Want to Be a Committeeman?

Republicans who feel the need of political honor may stir themselves to get on the State Central Committee of the party—if they think it worth while. There are three vacancies, and though the committee will be changed by the next primaries, so the honor will not be long, it may be worth the seeking by those who did not get on some of the committees for the World's Fair.

The vacancies are those caused by the resignations of Ashley of Stockton, Justice H. A. Melvin of your county, and General George Stone, who is soon to assume the onerous duties of drawing the salary of naval officer. General Stone was chairman of the Campaign Committee, so that leaves open a vacancy that is rather hard to fill. Justice Melvin resigned when he went to the Court of Last Resort, and we are told that Ashley's business has taken him out of politics.

General George Stone is also to lay aside his job as Fish and Game Commissioner. But do not all jump at once. The place pays no salary. Still, it offers many opportunities for sport, and commands respect. W. G. Henshaw is to be appointed.

Being a "Good Fellow"

On the night of the New Year revel I saw an exemplification of what it means to be a "good fellow" under adverse conditions. In the general mix-up of that night there were many situations where men and women lost their tempers. In each case the loss of prestige was worse than the loss of temper, for everybody seemed expected to carry a good nature, no matter what the cost or the provocation.

Maud Lillian Berri, the opera star, sat at a joyous table. Wine had been ordered. The waiter had poured it at a side table, and was bringing it in a dozen glasses on his tray. He had put the tray down right in front of Miss Berri.

The serpentine were flying, and just as the waiter put his tray down along came an extra-sized serpentine, flung by an exceptionally vigorous hand. It struck the long-stemmed champagne glasses. Down they went, like a lot of ten pins. Right into Miss Berri's lap—and all over her glorious gown went that wine. It made the women shudder.

But do you think Miss Berri sulked or showed temper? The daughter of Fulton G. Berri is not that sort. She stood up, flourished a glass over her head, laughed heartily and shouted:

"Hoopa! A happy New Year to everybody!"

Well, don't you suppose we all applauded—and don't you suppose Miss Berri went down in our books as one of the brightest and grittiest girls we ever saw in action?

What About This for Theory?

When the news came that Senator Perkins had slipped on the ice at Washington, the politicians at once began to wonder whether he was so seriously hurt that he would resign his office. From this the wonder grew as to who would be appointed by Governor Gillett to succeed him.

Of course George A. Knight eliminated himself by his recent declarations in favor of Curry for Governor. So this man and that man were discussed, favorably or unfavorably as the case might be. Anyone would think this State was rather short of senatorial timber, to hear the way the names were manhandled.

But just let me hazard a theory as to what would have happened in case Senator Perkins had felt forced to resign. I think Governor Gillett would have resigned as Governor. This would have made a Governor out of Lieutenant Governor Warren R. Porter. Now, what would hinder Porter from nominating Gillett as United States Senator? The Constitution says a Governor shall not be elected United States Senator during his term of office; but it does not say he shall not be appointed to fill a vacancy during that term.

However, Senator Perkins wasn't seriously hurt; he isn't going to resign, and one theory of what would have happened is quite as good as another. Take mine for what it is worth.

How Gumshoe Got a Job

Some surprise was excited in San Francisco by the recent announcement that the Bankers' Association of the United States had appointed William J. Burns, our own gumshoe artist of unpleasant memory and other things, to the post of its chief detective or operative, in the place of the Pinkerton agency. Burns' keenness as a Hawkshaw was well illustrated by the celerity with which he made his exit from this city after the municipal election held early in last November—he not even tarrying for the official announcement of the result, being satisfied to decamp on the semi-official returns.

A different angle to the succession of Burns to the work done for so many years by the Pinkertons is given by a story from the East. It appears that the contract between the Pinkertons and the Bankers' Association was about to expire. The Pinkertons wanted to enter into a new arrangement for twenty-five years. The Bankers' Association would only make a contract with them for a term of five years and there was a failure to agree. But Burns was there, out of a job and ready to take almost any old thing. The Bankers' Association being unable to come to terms with the Pinkertons made shift by engaging Gumshoe Burns for a trial of one year at its own terms.

Confirmation of Devlin

The reappointment of Robert T. Devlin, United States District Attorney for this district, seems to still be encountering obstacles in regard to its confirmation by the United States Senate. A mysterious lot of gossip comes from Washington, D. C., in this relation. The tattle among the politicians is that Devlin's confirmation is contingent upon his retiring at an early day. This would indicate that the friends of Dr. E. B. Perrin, who sought the scalp of Devlin on charges in relation to the manner in which the land fraud cases in which Perrin, Benson and others were accused were conducted by the District Attorney are still active at the National Capital. Not the least among these are Senator Tillman and some of his associates, from the South, assisted by Borah.

The story told here is that Devlin is to be given full indorsement and vindication for his administration by reappointment and confirmation but that he must resign. The date of this resignation seems to be the present subject of contention. On the one hand it is said that it must come on the day succeeding the confirmation, but that Devlin's friends are making a vigorous protest and fight to secure an extension, if it be but for one week.

It is said that Devlin will go into the private practice of the law, having had several offers of advantageous connections. John L. McNab of Ukiah, member of the Republican State Central Committee, Presidential Elector in the Taft campaign and otherwise conspicuous in Republican politics, is said to be in line to succeed Devlin. McNab wishes to come to San Francisco in order that he may become familiar with the practice here, which same purpose is said to have attracted Devlin to Federal office from Sacramento, where the latter had a large and lucrative practice.

Sporting Interests

The sporting interests of this city, having had three quite lean years under the Taylor administration of the municipality, are looking forward to two fat years under the broader and more liberal administration of P. H. McCarthy. Already the corners of the carpets in those resorts where dancing has been prohibited have been torn up preliminary to the removal of those floor coverings altogether and resuming the terpsichorean pastime. The saloon and cigar store men expect to be permitted to restore at least two of the nickel-in-the-slot machines that a brief time back were ordered out. In short, the various pleasure resorts which, under the outgoing administration were handicapped with various restrictions, expect to return to their old basis of doing business.

If the sporting elements believe that they are to be permitted to run a wide-open town, it is possible that they will meet with disappointment. Mayor McCarthy has expressed himself as unequivocally opposed to the "crib-house" and has declared that he will not permit one to be run in this city. Referring to the bunko games that have flourished under the Taylor administration as so many green bay trees, McCarthy said recently: "I will permit no bunko games to be run in this city. I am already securing the names of all bunko-steerers and sure-thing men in town with a view to giving them notice to leave as soon as I take office."

It is also understood that McCarthy has been informing himself as to the exact condition in the tenderloin and other redlight sections of the city under the Taylor administration and that he has expressed doubt as to the possibility of the city being any wider open than it has been for the past two years. It would not be a bad guess that the new Mayor will put the curb on in many matters at which the Taylor administration has winked.

Popper Back in the Game

Maximilian Popper, former political and business partner of Christopher A. Buckley, is back in the political game once more. When I say former partner of Buckley I am not sure that the relation was ever severed, Chris feeling such a deep interest in his associate that he at one time refused to declare the partnership off. Max acted as chairman of the campaign committee that sought to promote the bond end in the recent Geary street contest. The electors having voted that the bonds issue, the friends of Popper consider that the victory entitles Max to the nomination for Mayor two years hence. But Popper is non-committal on the subject and as he is very much of a tourist he may be in some foreign land by the time the next municipal campaign rolls around.

Just now Popper is promoting the water bond fight, or rather one branch of it, he favoring the acquiring of the Hetch-Hetchy supply and opposing the purchase of the Spring Valley plant.

Petitions Not Out

None of the avowed candidates for State office in the campaign this year has, in so far as I have heard, started his petition-of-nomination papers for the primary of next August. They all seem to be waiting the decision of the Supreme Court as to whether the old registration or the new, beginning with the current year, shall be used in securing signatures to their petitions.

Charles F. Curry, who is understood to have some political backing in this city, is busy organizing clubs in this city and throughout the State. His campaign manager in San Francisco is Thomas A. Keogh, formerly in the law office of Campbell, Metson & Drew. He has established headquarters in the Foxcroft building on Post street and considerable work is being done there. The card system of organization is being used and it is said that these cards will furnish a basis for securing signatures to the nomination papers that will be put in circulation after the decision of the Supreme Court shall have been rendered.

White Slave Traffic

That the Federal authorities are preparing to give special consideration to the white slave traffic about which so much has recently been published in eastern magazines, is indicated by the report that there are a number of secret service men in San Francisco at the present time conducting an investigation with a view to action being taken at Washington, D. C. A similar investigation is in progress in Sacramento and recently an unfortunate woman was ordered deported and went back to France. It is reported that the Federal administration is especially earnest in this matter and that most vigorous action will be taken to suppress this white slave traffic wherever found to exist.

Flint May Not Run

Among the political gossip of the week just closed are reports from Washington, D. C., and the so thern part of this State that United States Senator Frank P. Flint positively will not be a candidate to succeed himself. Should these reports prove true a readjustment of the lines of the State campaign, particularly in the southern part of this State, will have to be had. There are those who regard the postponement of an announcement by Governor Gillett in respect to his candidacy for return to his present office as having some relation with the senatorial fight. The name of former United States Senator Thomas R. Bard is being discussed in connection with his selection for the toga once again.

The unwritten law being that the junior Senator shall come from the south, the refusal of Senator Flint to again enter the race might cause complications that would practically necessitate a rearrangement of the pieces on the political chess-board.

The Dismissal of Pinchot.

The letter addressed by Gifford Pinchot to Senator Dolliver, to be read in the Senate, left the President no alternative but the summary dismissal of the Chief Forester. Even if he were willing to overlook the gross reflection on his personal integrity, the President could not permit the offense against the dignity of his high office to go unpunished. The authority of the Chief Magistrate of the nation had been flagrantly defied in a way to bring his uprightness in question before the Senate.

In his recital of the facts the President makes it clear that Pinchot was backing two of his subordinates in preparing for publication in the press attacks on a cabinet officer, and that he then appealed to the Senate and the public to prevent the dismissal of the officials who had thus violated an executive order and the official proprieties. He made this appeal through a Senator openly hostile to the administration, in terms which directly challenged not only the authority of the President, but his personal honor; also that of the Attorney General and the Secretary of the Interior. In addition, he defended an official whom the President had found guilty of falsehood and calumny regarding the head of the Interior Department. Moreover, he did this after being advised by his immediate official superior, Hon. James Wilson, Secretary of Agriculture.

Pinchot must have known that prompt and peremptory dismissal would follow his insubordination and breach of official propriety. Appearances indicate that he intended his letter to be taken as a declaration of war on the President and his cabinet. It was nothing less. The President would have been recreant to himself and his office had he not visited immediate and condign punishment on the offender. A reprimand under the circumstances would have encouraged a repetition of the offense—have given it the color of justification, in fact.

All the circumstances of the affair indicate that Pinchot has from the first been engaged in an intrigue against Secretary Ballinger and that he has been actively co-operating with a political cabal arrayed in hostility against the administration. His effort to shield Price and Shaw was due to the fact that they acted with his connivance and knowledge if not by his specific order. He furnished material for newspapers and public speakers to use in attacking Secretary Ballinger and imputing to the President a desire to reverse the conservation policy inaugurated by President Roosevelt.

Pinchot's conduct is peculiarly flagrant because the Alaska coal land question is not even remotely related to water and forest conservation. It is a question of fact and law relating to the acquisition of certain coal lands which is now under review by the President and the officials of the General Land Office. The issue is whether patents to lands alleged to have been irregularly or fraudulently located shall be denied or issued. Forest and water conservation have nothing to do with the case, yet Pinchot, a subordinate of the Agricultural Department, was intriguing with Special Agent Glavis, a subordinate of the Interior Department, in an effort to discredit Secretary Ballinger and hold him up to public view as an official recreant to his trust. He was in fact a conspirator against the administration and a tool in the hands of political enemies of the President. That he has rendered valuable service to the cause of forest and water conservation is a fair interest on the money invested in them and the cost of management and maintenance for which credit is due to J. Mills Thomas, the man whom Mills had the sagacity and good judgment to choose as his manager. The hotels have paid from the start and they are always full of the most orderly and respectable class of workmen.

Pinchot has simply exposed himself and laid bare the conspiracy which fired his opening gun at the Spokane Irrigation Congress.

Oakland is not aspiring to supremacy in the future as the financial center of the Pacific coast, for that is firmly established in San Francisco. But as to being the future commercial and manufacturing center it puts in a premier claim to all other cities on the Pacific seaboard.

With bank clearings the past week amounting to $2,538,000, Oakland passed all previous high water marks and that, notwithstanding the fact that a large percentage of the amount of business transacted in Oakland helps to swell the San Francisco bank clearings and thus gives them a fictitious value at Oakland's expense.

Beginning Monday, Los Angeles will have ten days of aviation. It is the first meeting of the kind to be held on the American continent. Sixteen experts will give exhibitions of flight in heavier than air machines. Some of them have come all the way from France to enter the competitions. Most of the aviators have made world record flights in their biplanes and monoplanes and a demonstration will be given of the United States army dirigible balloon. The aviation camp is located thirteen miles from the city, but the promoters of the enterprise have great expectations regarding the drawing capacity of the show, for an immense grand stand has been erected capable of seating 20,000 people, and additional boxes have been provided that will seat 10,000 more. They are building their faith on the assumption that the novel display will attract crowds from all parts of the Pacific coast, and it probably will.

The Citrus Crop of 1909-10.

The president of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange at Los Angeles fears that the shippers of Southern California oranges will suffer a heavy loss this year owing to the long season of frosty weather there. The orange growing districts in the southern counties are passing through more chilly experience this winter than they have ever known in the past, and while low temperatures have been recorded all over the State the citrus belts of Central and Northern California have not reported any special suffering to crops, probably because most of the fruit produced in them was shipped East early enough to catch the Christmas trade in eastern markets.

With its usual erratic habits the frost has run through the orange districts of the south in streaks. Sections totally exempt from frost in past years are reported to have been nipped this winter, while others, where the invasion of frost was expected, have escaped.

Whatever damage may have been suffered by the orange crop in the southern counties will develop later on as having been magnified unduly, for the Weather Bureau has usually given the orange growers timely notice to start the smudge fires burning in the threatened orange groves.

The citrus industry has grown to enormous proportions, hence any serious injury to it would create a big financial loss to the growers. It is estimated that the crop of lemons and oranges in California this season will aggregate at least 30,000 car loads, of which the southern counties should, according to the estimate of the Riverside Press, ship 27,000 carloads to eastern markets. That would leave only 3,000 carloads from the northern and central California groves, which is an underestimate, as more than that quantity was shipped from Tulare, Butte, Placer, Sacramento and other counties early in November and December. It is estimated that the 30,000 carloads which is assumed to represent this winter's crop will exceed $30,000,000 in value, an amount one-third greater than the total gold production of California. Last year's crop is represented to have returned $20,000,000 to growers and $12,000,000 to the railroads in freight.

Model Workingmen's Hotels.

No man ever erected a better monument to his own memory than the late D. O. Mills did when he built the three workingmen's hotels in New York. These hotels have been provided with every necessary equipment for utility and absolute comfort to be found in the best hotels in the country. The rooms are well furnished, lighted and ventilated. Every convenience for health and comfort which modern sanitary science has developed is embodied in these structures. Free baths, reading rooms, libraries and other auxiliaries for the encouragement of cleanliness, mental and physical improvement and to profitably while away the leisure and keep their patrons away from the temptations and dens of vice of the big metropolis are included in their equipment. In fact, these big hotels contain all the attractions of luxurious homes and all at a cost no greater than the denizens of the congested tenements are paying in the miserable quarters they occupy.

The marvel of it all is that these luxurious workingmen's hostels are paying the Mills hotel trust a fair interest on the money invested in them and the cost of management and maintenance for which credit is due to J. Mills Thomas, the man whom Mills had the sagacity and good judgment to choose as his manager. The hotels have paid from the start and they are always full of the most orderly and respectable class of workmen.

The founder of these hotels always disclaimed being actuated by any philanthropy in their erection, but insisted that they simply constituted a sound, practical business investment. While his judgment in that regard has been fully vindicated, his investment has, nevertheless, proved to be a philanthropic agent of the best character, for no patron of the hotels has reason to feel that he is in any sense an object of charity, thus maintaining in the fullest degree his personal independence and self respect.

California is facing a banner year in the volume and value of its production—mineral, agricultural and manufacturing.

Celery growing has become a big industry in San Joaquin county. The industry is in its second year only, but the first year produced such profitable results that 2500 acres are under a crop this year and the growers expect to realize over $400,000 from it. The Santa Ana district has had a monopoly of the industry for many years past. Now with their customary business keenness two rival Los Angeles shipping firms have invaded the San Joaquin county celery field and are shipping the crop east. Their rivalry has stiffened the prices and the growers are benefiting correspondingly. The Stockton Chamber of Commerce should take a timely interest in the manner in which these shipments are made and see that due credit is given in the branding of the crates to the territory in which their contents have been grown. The Sacramento Chamber of Commerce was compelled to protest a year or two ago against the practice of shipping asparagus, early vegetables and fruits from the valley by Los Angeles firms in crates and boxes bearing the untruthful legend: "Grown in Los Angeles county."

MANIAC IS FOUND RIDING ON A TRAIN

J. Engleson Finally Locates Demented Brother Whom He Lost

PITTSBURG, Jan. 8.—J. Engleson of San Francisco stopped off here last night fearing he had lost his brother Carl, who is demented and whom he was taking to Norway. The San Francisco man came east and stopped at Denver where he took his brother Carl in charge. They left St. Louis Thursday for New York. All the time the San Francisco man had been with his brother and had not slept, watching him continually from Denver east.

When within twenty miles of Pittsburgh the San Francisco brother awakened from a dose last night and discovered his demented brother was missing. He got off at Pittsburgh and had the railroad company telegraph back along the line, as he believed his brother had jumped off the train. Today the San Francisco brother received word from Harrisburg that his brother had been put in charge of the police there. His presence had been discovered from an upper berth where he had hidden and gone to sleep.

Road Building Art

Samuel Hill, a son-in-law of James J. Hill, the Northwest railway magnate, and the president of the American Road Builders' Association, takes a practical view of the road building art. He asserts it needs trained men, and advocates the establishment of road building chairs in all the important colleges of the country, and especially at West Point. He has succeeded in impressing this view upon some of the institutions of learning of the state of Washington, of which he is a resident, and 200 young men in that state are studying the road building course this year. Mr. Hill declares that in five years in consequence of the interest taken by the local colleges in this matter and the progressive attitude of the legislature which devotes one-third of the revenues of the state to road building, Washington will have the best system of roads in the United States.

Whether Washington, one of the youngest states of the Union, will be able in that time to outstrip all her sister states in providing a modern highway system may be open to question, but there is sound sense in the recommendation that a system of education in practical road building shall be established as a prerequisite to the construction of a general system of permanent highways in the United States. Much of the money heretofore devoted to the construction of roadways that are dust lanes in dry weather and a succession of quagmires in wet has previously been wasted—partly through the ignorance of the roadmakers as to what constituted a good road. The first step toward putting an end to this waste and entering upon scientific methods will be the training of a lot of students in the art of making roads. —Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

Where Widow's Money Goes

New York at least has begun taking an intelligent interest in compensation to victims of industrial accidents. A commission appointed by the Legislature has been investigating the subject. Here is one thing it discovered:

A great many of the larger employers take out insurance against damages arising from accidents to their workmen. Several companies make a specialty of writing such insurance. For a given premium the company assumes all of the employer's liability in regard to damages resulting from accidents, of the money that the employer thus pays to the company, 40 per cent goes for the general expenses of the company, while 15 per cent more is absorbed in the expenses of fighting and adjusting claims for damages. Thus only 45 per cent goes to the victims, and of that 45 per cent, probably about half goes to the victims' lawyers. Out of every $100 which the insured employer pays on account of personal injuries through accidents on his premises, probably only $20 or $25 actually reaches the victim. It seems, however, that out of ten claimants only one ever gets anything at all.

The victims of these accidents in most cases are needy cripples or widows or orphans.

It is true, as employers sometimes urge, that settlement of damage claims by means of a lawsuit is the merest lottery. A fraudulent claim, especially if pressed by a woman, may be awarded a heavy judgment. A just claim may be thrown out on a technicality. But why leave it to a lottery? Why not follow the example of every other civilized nation? —Saturday Evening Post.

Twenty Years Ago in Oakland

Because council went over the head of the Board of Public Works and authorized the superintendent of streets to employ fifty additional men to clean Oakland's streets, the Board of Public Works has openly declared war against the city fathers and warm developments are expected. The board says that they have countermanded the order of the council as the superintendent of streets is directly amenable to them and subject to their orders.

J. M. Davies, ex-secretary of the Board of Trade, denies that he is short in his accounts, despite the action taken by the board to have his books audited by experts.

PETROSINO'S SLAYER IS BLACK HAND LEADER

Murderer of Detective Now Said to Be Working in Pennsylvania

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The identity of the murderer of Detective Joseph Petrosino, who was assassinated in Palermo, Sicily, last year, it is asserted on excellent authority has been established.

According to secret service men who have been working on the case ever since the well known Italian detective was shot down, the murderer is an Italian bad man and head of the "black-hand" organization in this country who is now working in the mines at Carbondala, Pa.

The secret service men are yet unable to arrest him because they cannot get any of the men who worked with the miners to go to the mines and identify the man.

Elopement Revealed After Week's Secret

An elopement which took place December 30th came to light yesterday when J. J. Lonergan, well known in Oakland as "Little Joe" Lonergan, announced his marriage on the date mentioned to Miss Myrtle Fish of San Jose.

The groom is, the son of J. J. Lonergan, formerly a member of the firm of Goldberg, Bowen & Company, and the bride is the daughter of I. Fish, a San Jose music teacher. The pair had been friends for more than a year, but had never announced their engagement.

On December 30th they decided to marry and begin the new year together, and without announcing their intentions to any of their friends or to the bride's parents, they went to Santa Cruz and were wedded. Returning to San Jose the bride was left without her father's family until yesterday, when the announcement of the marriage was made, and the pair took up their residence in Oakland.

LOWER BROADWAY DARK AS FEED-WIRE FALLS ON STREET

The lights in rural sections of the city power to blow out. The full extent of the damage cannot be estimated.

Went out suddenly shortly before 2 o'clock this morning, when a feed wire fell across one of the main electric wires of the Oakland Light and Power Company at Second and Broadway. Wires fell for a radius of several blocks and the streets were filled with writhing sizzling live wires that illuminated the sky with a purple light. The lumber yards were threatened by one of the wires.

The tangled wires also fell across the trolley wires of the Traction Company on Broadway near Second, causing the

MAKES WAISTS WHILE YOU WAIT

Kahn Bros. Have Lightning Operator on Women's Wear in Show Window

An innovation in rapid shirtwaist tailoring is being introduced by Kahn Bros. at their big dry goods store, corner 12th and Washington streets, by an expert who during the coming week will make up material purchased at the up-to-date establishment for the small additional cost of ninety-eight cents. The attraction is one that has had a wide vogue in the east and by competing with San Francisco, the local firm has been able to secure the services of a rapid operator who, turning out perfectly tailored and individually fitted waists at a minimum cost, will give to the women of Oakland an opportunity to have them made up of specially selected material.

The offer applies naturally only to goods bought at Kahn Bros. store, and the operator has been secured for a limited time only. He came here direct from Sacramento where he has just concluded a contract extending over thirteen weeks. The electric machine on which he works, was installed in the Washington street windows of the store last night and during the hours before closing time, attracted a throng of interested spectators.

DEMOCRATIC EDITORS STILL IN CONFERENCE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—The conference of the Democratic editors and legislators of this State met for its second day session today, with Judge John Baker of Modoc County in the chair. The committee of eleven selected for formulate resolutions embodying the plans of the Democracy for the next State campaign was re-elected. After the business session a paper on "Railroad Rates and the Customs Tariff" by Jos. H. Call of Los Angeles was read by Henry McDonald of this city. The discussion was led by Seth Mann, attorney for the local traffic bureau, and was participated in by several of the delegates. The conference will continue in session this afternoon and tonight.

FRUIT GROWERS WILL POSTPONE THE MEETING

SANTA ROSA, Jan. 8.—Secretary O. E. Brenner of the State Horticultural Commission sent a communication to the Press Democrat Thursday night stating that owing to a conflict of dates the commission has been obliged to postpone the Santa Rosa Fruit Growers' meeting until Saturday, January 22d.

As the coming meeting is one for the fruit growers of all sections of the county they are asked to make the date of the meeting Saturday, January 22d, as widely known as possible, and to attend themselves and encourage their friends to do likewise.

The Truth About Our DISCOUNT SALE

We desire to state publicly that the Discounts and Special Reductions made on all our Merchandise are GENUINE DISCOUNTS and REDUCTIONS. We have not resorted to the time-honored custom of marking our goods up FORTY PER CENT and then offering them at HALF PRICE. Every Discount is based on the REGULAR SELLING PRICE, and we never RAISE PRICES. When we advertise 10 per cent Discount, ONE-QUARTER OFF or HALF PRICE we mean it and can prove it.

A Linen Statement

We challenge comparison of Stock, Quality Pattern and Price with any House on this Coast in the matter of Linens, at the same time making the direct statement that we excel them all. Compare our Stock with any on this or the other side of the Bay, and tell us frankly if we have made a misstatement.

MORGAN NOT IN CHAMPAGNE TRUST

Coast Wine Men Are Only With the East for Combination

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—"What next will we be accused of?" queried one of J. P. Morgan's partners today, when asked as to the truth of the printed reports that Morgan was contemplating the creation of a champagne and wine trust by consolidating all the wine-growing and vinification interests in the United States. "Absolutely nothing in it," said Mr. Morgan's partner, who requested that his name be not printed, "for," said he, "it would be really funny to see J. Pierpont Morgan in the wine business."

Despite these denials it was learned today that certain of the big wine producers, particularly those of the Pacific coast, had made overtures to their brethren of the East, and more especially those of Western New York, looking to a consolidation of interests.

WANT BIG BACKING. If such a substantial company as J. P. Morgan & Company would undertake the formation of a corporation embracing the wine-growing and producing interests of the United States, it would receive a great stimulus, "and then," said a well-known downtown retailer of American wines, "there would be an end to the trade of re-labeled, but not re-bottled and then re-shipped to the United States and sold to the retailer as the real product of France at an advance of nearly 200 per cent."

AFTER COPPER INTERESTS. A consolidation of copper interests is said to be engaging Mr. Morgan's attention and that of his energetic staff of partners, and until this matter has satisfactorily been disposed of Mr. Morgan will not engage in molding new combinations of capital.

For this reason also it is said, Mr. Morgan, while having caused his agents to situation, will not at the present time be engaged in a thorough investigation of the organization of a nitrate trust as reported in dispatches from Copenhagen.

WANTS COIN FOR BLIGHTED LOVE Charles Luschen Will Sue Heiress for Breach of Promise

SAN MATEO, Jan. 8.—Following the secret marriage at San Rafael several days ago of Alice Emma Hoffman, one of the three wealthy Fred von Hofen's daughters, and Albert von Hofen, brother-in-law of John Riemer, the gas pipe thug, after a melodramatic play in which a gun and a sheath knife played a conspicuous part, Charles Luschen, former city trustee and a prominent business man of Redwood City, threatens to institute a breach of promise suit against the bride for $20,000.

With her sisters, the Misses Viola and Anna Hoffman, von Hofen's wife has been accused as one of the "catches" of the San Mateo set. Von Hofen wooed her strenuously, and knife play during a nerve-wracking suit, as though Miss Hoffman had given her heart to another man, but the announcement of yesterday, revealed that the Diamond Dick tactic of the latter had scored Luschen is much less than the law upon the girl whom she says was his affianced wife.

HAZZIN LAND GRANT DEAL MAY GO THROUGH

WOODLAND, Jan. 8.—There is a probability without any further litigation, Morris Brook, of Sacramento, who was interested with J. Craig of this city in promoting the Hazzin land grant in New York, where he went to interview J. H. Haggis, the owner of the grant.

It will be remembered that Frank Drum, Mr. Haggis's agent, gave Mr. Craig an option on the land, and Mr. Brook found a purchaser in George W. Butler, but Drum called off the dog.

The result was two suits. Mr. Craig brought suit against Drum for the commission he would have received if the deal had been consummated. It is understood that they were to be decided before Mr. Craig and Mr. Brook, Mr. Butler also brought suit to compel the grant to be made to him at the price stipulated, and he also claimed $125,000 in damages.

Mr. Brook and Mr. Drum were in New York to see Mr. Haggis, Mr. Brook is of the opinion that Mr. Haggis will be the deal go through and that there will be no further litigation.

"I cannot say, however," he stated, "that a settlement has been made nor did Haggis use in many words that he would put the transfer through."—referred encouragement of the best kind and feel that a settlement will be made before the first break in the negotiations.

LOVE AFFAIR AGAIN DISRUPTS SAUSALITO

SAUSALITO, Jan. 8.—Again there is a rebellion in the ranks of the family of Edith Sylvia, the pretty 17-year-old girl whose love, the pretty 17-year-old girl caused complications to exist between the soldiers at Fort Baker and the civilians of this place.

It was about the time that Edith transferred her affections from Manuel Sylvia to Private Landon Burgan of the Coast Artillery, stationed at Fort Baker, that her 16-year-old sister Bella went to Sylvia's home, despite the opposition of her sister, and was married to him.

Edith Sylvia, who says that she will marry her soldier lover, says that she matches are looked upon favorably by the authorities here, who think that the alliance will keep peace between the warring soldiers and civilians.

SOUTHERNER PURCHASES BEAUTIFUL ELK PARK

NAPA, Jan. 8.—Mrs. Augusta M. Marx, widow of the late F. F. Marx, has sold "Elk Park," her beautiful country home in the Napa Redwoods, for $25,000, to Louis Streuber, a wealthy man who came from Los Angeles.

Mr. Streuber has already taken possession of the property and has established his headquarters there.

The deed, which was recently filed in Recorder H. L. Gunn's office, shows that "Elk Park" comprises 341.27 acres.

It is understood that Mr. Streuber will soon commence extensive improvements on his newly acquired property.

OCEAN GREYHOUND GETS OUT OF MUD UNAIDED

PARIS, Jan. 8.—The arrival of the Hamburg-American liner, the Prinzess Alice, today lifted a load of anxiety from the officials of the company, who yesterday despaired of the steamer, which had run sixty feet of her length into a mud bank, twelve feet deep, and was held fast.

Even with the prospect of a $2,000,000 loss the officials refused the assistance of French naval tugboats, and showed that they were able to manage their own affairs. The liner was floated with the sacrifice of only a small part of her cargo, mostly coffee and tea, and a valuable shipment of California fruits was saved.

WILL SEARCH HOTEL FOR VIOLATIONS OF THE LAW

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—Deputy Fish and Game Commissioner Vogelsang secured a warrant from Police Judge Deasy this afternoon to search the kitchen and store rooms of the St. Francis hotel. Vogelsang has been given license to count the number of crabs, quail and wild ducks within the precincts of the hotel, and to discover whether or not there has been any violation of the State game laws.

THEATRICAL MANAGERS FIGHT HIGH LICENSE

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—The Grand Opera House company and a number of other downtown playhouses brought suit in the Superior Court yesterday to enjoin the city from enforcing the ordinance which raised the license fee from $500 to $1000. The bill sets forth that the ordinance is void, among other reasons, because it is discriminatory and that it is beyond the power of the city to enact such an ordinance.

LOUD DEMAND FOR BUSINESS BLOCKS

New Year to See Many Important Building Improvements

The Layman's Real Estate Company report a satisfactory opening of the new year. Referring to this, S. H. Masters, manager of the sales department, said: "The first week of the new year is upon us and with it comes the new hope and sanguine spirit attendant with this annual event. I may say at once that in the past three years has such a feeling been more justified than at the present time. Some one might say that this has said that good times is only a matter of every one having confidence. If this be true, and I believe it is, mainly good times are ahead for California, and especially Oakland, for on every hand expressions of good times and confidence are heard. The year has opened auspiciously. The past is history only to be in the future. The prospects planned on paper during the depression will now take tangible, commercial form. Millions of dollars will be expended in Oakland county. The inquiries during the past thirty days for manufacturing sites alone demonstrate the extent and awakening of industrial enterprise and also that our factory facilities of par excellence are being recognized by the outside world more and more every day."

BUSINESS BLOCKS NEEDED.
"Oakland's great need today is more business locations—business blocks. We have clients today clamoring for more space in the downtown district—increasing demands from local and outside firms. Two million dollars spent on this class of buildings would fill an urgent need and give a handsome return on the money invested."
"Our sales force have been busy this week. Renting has been brisk and several leases, including downtown locations, have been made. Lack of locations has stopped us from closing several more. Our fire insurance business has exceeded our expectations this week's business being greatly in excess of the same period for several years back."
"We have closed a number of Rock Ridge Park homes that were noted below nearly all are out-of-town buyers. Rock Ridge Park now being in Oakland, this means added population, more homes to our city."

RECENT SALES.

The firm report the following recent sales:
For Mary A. Armitage to J. B. Thornton, new six-room cottage, lot 40x100 feet, on Sixty-third street, near Moulton, $5000.

SCULPTOR TO WED CHARMING MODEL

American Woman's Distinguished Protege Loses Heart Yvonne de Kerstrat

PARIS, Jan. 8.—Joe Davidson is a young Russian immigrant who was found on the East Side of New York by Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, who recognized his signs of talent and sent him to Paris where he has become a distinguished sculptor. On each of his visits to Paris Mrs. Whitney goes to the Latin quarter to encourage her protegee.
His latest work is a life-size statue of Yvonne de Kerstrat, a young woman who recently returned from New York to visit her brother, Count de Kerstrat. Today the sculptor announces an early marriage to his charming model which is the proper ending to a studio romance. The bill of the model appeared on the stage in America with Harry Miller's company and afterward set up as a fashionable model on Fifth Avenue. Her brother who is an authentic count, in one of the figures of the Latin quarter. He and Frederick H. Burlingham, the American writer, were together on that famous trip wearing sandals when they were suspected of being Artist Steluhell's murderers. They had no difficulty in demonstrating their innocence, but their eccentricities of dress have long been the talk of the Latin quarter.
Davidson and his young wife will go to America, where an exhibition of his work is to be held. He says the statue for which his wife is posing represents "Art's conquest of nature and destiny."

NEW YORK Jan. 8.—"Uncle Sam" Horton, the oldest active broker on Wall Street, was the guest of honor tonight at the seventh annual dinner of the Bradford County (Pa.) Society at the Plaza Hotel. Three hundred were present. Horton has been in Wall Street for forty-five years and is 75 years of age.

Auction! Auction! Auction!

We have a few sets of New Americanized Encyclopedia which we have accepted in payment for advertising. We wish to dispose of them as quickly as possible. We prefer not to sell them on the installment plan. We have contracted NOT to sell them to book stores, also NOT to advertise them for less than $46. In short—NOT TO INTERFERE WITH FUTURE SALES. You see, we are in quite a predicament. We have decided to sell them by mail AT AUCTION; that is, we will accept the best offers or bids we receive for them in response to this advertisement. Naturally we do not expect to get full price for them. Just as naturally we wish to get as much for them as we can. Obviously since we received the books in exchange for advertising, we are not under the necessity of selling them at a profit. We want to get rid of them. We want to turn them into money as quickly and with as little trouble as possible. This spells opportunity for YOU. Now, don't wait for a book agent to come around and talk you into buying an encyclopedia for a high price. Read this announcement and THINK FOR YOURSELF, and SAVE MONEY. You may be able to save $20 or $25. This offer is addressed to those who can MAKE UP THEIR MINDS WITHOUT ASSISTANCE and ACT, and ACT QUICKLY.

How Much Will You Give?

We Positively Guarantee

That identically this set of Encyclopedia is now being widely advertised and sold for $46.00 (see advertisements in leading magazines). This price is a great reduction from the publisher's price, which is $5 per volume, $75.00 per set—HOW MUCH WILL YOU BID?

REMEMBER There is positively no question about these books being brand new and

Incomparably Up-to-Date

Including the latest things in Science, Invention and Discovery — Airships, Electricity, Aerial Navigation, Wireless Telegraphy, Lyddite, etc. The world's knowledge in a nutshell, compact, reliable, intelligible. Invaluable for children going to school. Not too heavy, and yet not abridged.

CHILDREN NEED THIS LIBRARY.
They ask questions which the wisest man in the world could not answer, but 2000 famous wise men have answered a MILLION QUESTIONS in this library and they are get-at-able, as easily found as a name in the directory.

HYDE TO STAY WITH MAYOR GAYNOR

Chief Advisor of the Mayor to Remain With Him in New York

WOMEN WILL FOUND A NEW SCHOLARSHIP

Women Suffrage Agitation Is Held Responsible for Interest

(By RALPH JOHNSON)
NEW YORK Jan. 8.—Charles H. Hyde, personal counsel and confidential adviser of Mayor Gaynor of this city has decided not to spend the winter either in California or Florida as has been his custom, and where he was known as one of the most enthusiastic motorists of the section. While in California last winter he had much to do with arousing interest and work among local motorists in behalf of the good roads movement which is now bringing such good results. Although not a promoter of good roads in Florida he has always been one of the leading spirits in the automobile races held in the sunny South each year. Mr. Hyde was the first president of the New York Motor Club, and was instrumental in establishing Orphans' Automobile Day in New York. This idea has been adopted in most of the large cities of the United States, Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland Ore., St. Louis, Denver, New Orleans, Atlanta, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh and many other of the large cities make this annual event one of the leading affairs of the year.

Mr. Hyde will figure very prominently in the New York mayoralty affairs, because it is well known how close he is to the new executive. It has already been pointed out that the advent of Hyde means much to every motorist, not only in New York, but other cities as well, because the precedent established in New York is quickly adopted elsewhere. Mr. Hyde is a lawyer and has owned many motor cars and has been a leading factor in urging national legislation to regulate the licensing of cars as well as regulating the control of the motorist. President Taft and Mr. Hyde had a conference the other evening when the President was in New York, attending the wedding of his niece, and I am told automobiles and the best methods of enacting legislation applying to them was one of the topics considered. President Taft calling this the "automobile day" give some idea of the great importance he places on this new sport and industry.

CONFERS WITH AUTOISTS
As president of the New York Motor Club, Mr. Hyde accomplished much in furthering the interests of motorists. He visited many cities and spent much time conferring with automobilists looking toward a more uniform method of regulating the use of motor cars and the systematic upbuilding of the public roads. He frequently conferred with Colonel John Jacob Astor, President B. F. Yankum of the Rock Island-Prisco system, Governor Stewart of Pennsylvania, Governor Huley of Missouri and others about the building of highways in different parts of the country. In this way Mr. Hyde spent much time and all for love of the sport. Although he is creating many letters from all parts of the United States about the motor events that are being planned for 1910. In these movements he is working in harmony with Walter E. Edge, member of the New Jersey legislature from Atlantic City, who spends much time in the Pacific Coast and Middle West motoring and urging legislation looking toward the construction of good roads.

Circulars are being sent out this week by the General Federation of Women's Clubs with headquarters here and in Washington for a $1,000 scholarship to be held at either Oxford, Cambridge or London universities for 1910.

This has been thrown open for women, and the many requests which have been coming in from the Pacific Coast, Middle West and South show that those sections are far more interested than the East or larger cities.

One of the secretaries told me a few days ago that the great agitation going on for women suffrage has doubtless been responsible for the unusual number of applications that are coming from all parts of the United States.

The examination is given in mathematics, Latin and Greek, but since the Rhodes trustees have decided that any candidate from the United States who passes the qualifying examination in Latin and mathematics shall be eligible for the same rule will be applied to the men candidates for this scholarship. The papers are read and rated at Oxford by the official examiners. Admission to the examination will be allowed only upon the written recommendation of a candidate for the privilege by the national chairman of education of the general federation. This permit will be issued only upon the request of the president or chairman of education of a State or the District of Columbia.

FORM NEW CHAPTER.
A prominent lecturer of this city told me today about the organization of new chapters of the American Institute of Banking in Sacramento, Calif., Macon, Ga., Mobile, Ala., and Dallas, Tex. He only returned a few days ago from a trip through the Pacific Coast and Gulf States and went on to say that those chapters are to be conducted upon a strictly educational basis in accordance with the Chautauque method of instruction, in typewritten form with collateral examinations arranged for the use of non-professional instructors. The Chautauque method of instruction seems to have solved the problem of how to conduct small chapters and affords opportunity for unlimited institute extension.

The development of institute alumni promises to be an important feature of the present season. Leading chapters have accepted with enthusiasm the resolution adopted by the Seattle convention declaring that the paramount object of the institute is to fit and maintain a recognized standard of education in "Banking and Finance" and "Commercial and Banking Law" by means of official examinations and the issuance of certificates.

Chapter lectures and debate will be provided to meet local requirements and conditions, and a series of prize essays which are a feature of the program affords specific encouragement for original research and persuasive presentation at the institute convention to be held at Chattanooga, Tenn., next June. All the cities from all parts of the United States will be represented.

It Pays To Trade In Oakland—The Smaller Expenses of the Oakland Stores Enable Them to Give Larger Values

JANUARY CLEARANCE

There is no royal road to success. Each venture must hew its own way through the obstacles that surround the city of prosperity. You know The Always Busy Store. Those who have lived in this city for a number of years have watched it grow from a very modest beginning to Oakland's largest mercantile institution. Haven't other stores established as long or longer had the same opportunity to grow? Of course they have. The difference in growth means a difference in method, that's all. We are still hewing along the same line—1910 will develop a bigger business at Kahns', and the store will be enlarged and improved soon. This sale is but the beginning of the year's successes. As this store is bigger and more progressive than many other stores, so this sale will prove more helpful to you than other similar sales.

ILLCIT LOVE LEADS TO FATAL STREET SHOOTING

MAYOR GAYNOR STRENGTHENING DEFENSES AT HAWAII

Proves Himself Champion Walker, Keen Humorist and Thoughtful Politician

DELIGHTS IN MATHEMATICS AND STUDIES HOLY WRIT

He Never Reads Papers Nor Attends Theaters, but Loves His Library

MAYOR GAYNOR'S HOBBIES

WALKS 7 MILES EVERY DAY
Reads history and philosophy, especially Bacon and Epictetus. Enjoys humor in making appointments. Delights in geometry and trigonometry. Reads the Bible through often. Does not read the newspapers. Does not attend the theater. Makes typical utterances in turning down candidates. Appoints very few Tammany workers to office.

NEW YORK Jan 8.—Mayor William J. Gaynor, on whom the eyes of the nation are fixed this week, established himself as a champion pedestrian, a keen humorist and a thoughtful politician, and in the eyes of Tammany a mighty poor dispenser of jobs. The new system of interviewing the mayoralty has been established. Since the executive ordered all the heads of his departments to refuse to see reporters under penalty of losing their jobs, it devolved upon the reporters to see Gaynor in person. During office hours the mayor is too busy to see newspapermen, but he walks from his Brooklyn home to the New York city hall every morning and back in the evening so the city editors desire on a plan of stationing reporters along the route to wait him in relay.

FOND OF MATHEMATICS
Judge Gaynor as he likes to be called rather than Mayor Gaynor has admitted a fondness for mathematics, but he is showing a fondness for humor rather than geometry in appointing members of his cabinet. For instance, in appointing Rhineclaud Valdo as fire commissioner, the mayor said: "Here is a good catch. He is a bachelor and very rich."

The mayor makes a witty little report about each appointee, but in turning down old heads his utterances are most critical. For instance, in calling down Street Cleaning Commissioner Edwards for slowness in getting the streets cleared, Mayor Gaynor said: "Dear Mr. Edwards—Please hire some more toothbrush players."

"SWINGS ALONG AT GOOD GAIT"
It is three and a half miles from Gaynor's residence to his office, but the former judge swings along at a good gait and negotiates the distance in fifty minutes. Every morning approximately twenty reporters are stationed at strategic points to secure interviews. In the evening a proportionate number line the highways to get statements for the morning journals.

During the days of glancing payments, the mayor braved sleet and went tramping over the Brooklyn bridge just like the workmen who could not afford to pay carfare.

NEW TRIALS ASKED FOR CONVICTED SUGAR MEN

NEW YORK Jan 8.—When the convicted men in the sugar cases were brought into court today their counsel made motions for new trials. Judge Martin after hearing argument announced he would render his decision Monday when he would require all the prisoners except Oliver Spitzer, the former dock superintendent, to be present. Spitzer's case will be deferred to enable the prisoner to undergo a surgical operation.

Consular Reports Cause the Question of Fortification to Be Resumed

INTEREST IN WORK IS A COINCIDENCE

Comes on Heels of the Note Sent by Secretary Knox to Powers

WASHINGTON, Jan 8.—

Pressure from a mysterious source, supposed to be consular reports, has caused the question of the emergency fortifications of the island of Oahu, Hawaiian Islands.

The State Department has persistently refused to explain the visit here of Mr. Cloud recently consul at Mukden. The department also has possibly prudent reasons declines to have "the better question" in Hawaii as it is now called by the department. Officials at the War Department officials the plan of the President, which includes in all thirteen immediate defense until the plan shall have become an accomplished fact.

The immediate and concrete proposition now is that there shall be stationed on Oahu a large body of the light artillery, to include ten batteries of three hundred pounders.

It now appears that the plan for the fortification of Hawaii is contemplated defense only on one side. The side remote from Pearl Harbor and Honolulu was admitted today by engineers officers to be at the mercy of an invader. There will be nothing to prevent a successful descent on that part of the island. The only way they say to stop it is by the plan now in contemplation.

The emergency scheme is necessary. One is that it would be absolutely necessary in case of trouble and another that it would be a double disaster if while ten millions for the navy and three millions for the coast defense were being expended at President Taft's Pacific base the island itself would be captured and the millions of money thrown away.

The singular and appropriate epigram was formulated today by a coast defense officer that what is needed badly at this time is a defense for the defense.

Three Hundred Clever Children Will Assist by Dancing for Great Charity

Although the ticket committee has not yet begun its work two boxes have been disposed of at $100 each for the Kirmess performances. Box parties are being arranged at this early date and the first performance will be witnessed by an audience of the most prominent men and women in the county and state officers of sister organizations of the anti-tuberculosis movement expressing their intention of attending all performances in a body. It will be the largest and most magnificent production ever given in Oakland for charity and the management is straining every effort to make the affair eclipse from a financial standpoint of view the great success achieved on Tuesday.

PLAN RACE TO ANTARCTIC POLE

The Smithsonian Institution Interested in Expedition to the South

GOVERNMENT MAY BE ASKED TO AID QUEST

Two Ships Wanted From Navy Department for Dash by Explorers

WASHINGTON, Jan 8.—The Smithsonian Institution has become interested in the quest of the South Pole.

It is said that it is formulating a proposition to submit to congress for co-operation between the institution and the navy department by which two ships of the navy shall be detailed for the international race to the Antarctic pole. The object of ignoring the co-operation of the navy is that the expense may be less and also to put the enterprise on the plane of the designs of Great Britain and France.

INTERESTED IN MOVE
It is well known that the National Geographical Society is interested generally in the enterprise, but it has not yet formally taken any action. It is not a government body and will possibly yield its claims to the Smithsonian institution, which is the government body which undertakes expeditions such as the one now being conducted in Africa by former President Roosevelt.

All of the plans seem to contemplate the use of the Roosevelt, Peary's Arctic ship. If naval ships should be utilized for the search for the Antarctic pole it is within the possibilities that Commander Peary might be induced to go along with the expedition. He is soon to be retired with an honorary title in addition to that of captain in the navy. He has expressed himself in sympathy with the quest for the other pole.

COULD START SOON
If congress should within a short time authorize an American National Expedition to the South Pole, the expedition could start within a few months. Two naval ships and the Roosevelt would make an ideal squadron, and it is not improbable that the navy would be induced to join the men who with Peary became acclimated to the rigors of the under zero climate.

The serious question was made here today that if President Roosevelt came home suddenly he might be in the humor to head the South pole expedition himself.

GIBBONS PAYS SATOLLI TRIBUTE
Says That Dead Cardinal Was Most Learned of Philosophers

BALTIMORE, Md Jan 8.—Cardinal Gibbons today after learning of Cardinal Satolli's death, read with deep regret of the death of Cardinal Satolli, whom he knew well and esteemed highly. His associations with Baltimore were of a noteworthy character and dated from the time when he came over during the celebration of the jubilee of the late Pope Leo and during the jubilee of the windward of this building the magnificent memory of the cardinal here and he was much impressed by the cardinal's address and the wisdom of his words. He was particularly noted for his study of the philosophy of St. Thomas, which he was profoundly versed, perhaps more so than any other adherent of that illustrious school.

WOMAN FALLS VICTIM OF PARAMOUR'S JEALOUSY

ARTHUR BROWNING RIDDLES ANOTHER MAN'S WIFE WITH BULLETS—ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

'WAGES OF SIN IS DEATH,' WAILS FAITHLESS SPOUSE

Tragedy Occurs in Midst of Crowd That Swarms San Francisco's Tenderloin

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan 8.—

Moaning these words Mrs. Ruth McLaughlin of 168 Twenty-fourth avenue, Richmond expressed the belief that she was going to die as she lay on the operating table, a steaming from three pistol wounds inflicted by an "affinity" in the midst of the herring crowd in the Tenderloin, at 8:30 o'clock tonight.

Arthur Browning of 1242 Pacific street, met Mrs. McLaughlin at the corner of Montgomery avenue and Vallejo street, and, angered at her assertions that she would have nothing more to do with him, drew a revolver, pulled the trigger three times and, as he sank to the pavement, fired a bullet at himself.

SHOOTING ATTRACTS CROWD.
The hurrying crowd on joy-seeking jaunts in the neighborhood paused in their revelry, rushed to the scene, while Policeman Maun summoned ambulances and sent Mrs. McLaughlin to the Harbor Hospital and Browning to the Central Emergency Hospital.

Mrs. McLaughlin is the wife of Frank McLaughlin, a former attaché of the corner's office and although living with her husband has been wined and dined by Browning frequently during the past three years. They have been in the habit of meeting by appointment and enjoying little midnight suppers in the district of many lights.

The pair met by appointment tonight and Mrs. Browning informed Browning that this was to be their last evening together.

"I'M GOING TO CUT IT OUT."
"I'm going to cut it out and never go with you again," she said, as he approached her at the corner.

A quarrel followed and before bystanders could intervene four shots which are likely to end the lives of two persons were fired.

PONDEROUS 4-HORSE DRAY CRUSHES CHILD TO DEATH

Boy Falls Under Wheel While 'Nipping' Ride and His Head Is Mashed to Pulp in Sight of Home

SAN FRANCISCO Jan 8.—While "nipping" a ride on a truck near his home late this afternoon, Gerald Sanders, a 4-year-old boy met a horrible death by falling in front of a wagon which passed over his head.

The lad who lived at 2645 Lombard street was playing at the corner of Prichard and the State University. A heavy four-horse dray driven by Patrick Moriarty teamster for the J. J. Beckwith Luggage company drove along. The boy was on the rear of the

ART SCHOOL TO HAVE NEW HOME

Mark Hopkins Institute to Be Reconstructed by U. C. Regents

SAN FRANCISCO Jan 8.—The Board of Regents of the University of California are considering the erection of a new school to be used as an art school and will sit on the site at the corner of California and Mason streets. The building, occupied by the Timothy Hopkins man, and which was subsequently given by Secale to the State University. The Hopkins house was destroyed by fire in 1908 and a temporary one-story wooden structure was erected for the accommodation of the art school and gallery. This is entirely inadequate for the purpose and the board is now proposing to erect a $200,000 for the erection of a suitable structure.

NEW OIL COMPANY IS INCORPORATED

Merger Means the Control of Thousands of Acres of Land

PRESNO, Jan 8.—Articles of incorporation were filed today with the county clerk in this city by the American Oilfields Company which is capitalized for $25,000. Of this sum $700 has been subscribed. The directors of the company are the following Los Angeles men: D. L. Dolben, C. A. Canfield, J. M. Anderson, T. A. O'Donnell, J. M. Danziger, Norman Bridge and L. A. McCray.

It is understood that the incorporation of the company will consolidate interests controlling thousands of acres in the Colinga oil fields.

The structure a proposition to secure the requisite funds by private subscription is now under consideration.

COUNT OKUMA MAKES A POINTED EPIGRAM

TOKYO, Jan 8.—At the dedication today of a new dormitory for Waseda University by the Chinese Young Men's Christian Association, the most striking feature was Count Okuma's address, in which he asserted that Japan and China formerly slept in the same bed, but that Japan woke up first. He affirmed that the Oriental sage taught theoretical virtue but that the sage of Judea practiced the necessity of practicing virtue.

POWER OF PEACE PACT
"It is easy to see," continued Mr. Carnegie, "what the influence of an international agreement for peace would accomplish by simply reviewing a bit of history. Nearly a century ago, Canada and the United States agreed that upon the inland seas which constitute their boundary for hundreds of miles each should place one foot on vessel with one 25-pounder. The tiny craft, one firing in the Union Jack and the other the Stars and Stripes, have never fired a shot against in friendly salute to each other, and unbroken peace has been preserved. If the world had its police force on the seas there would be the 'protected' from assault which each naval power declares is all it desires, and is increased solely to ensure there would be as one in friendly alliance."

THE QUEST OF POWER
In the hopeless task of becoming too powerful to be attacked Britain and Germany are the principal contestants. Britain has a strong case. She can feed her people if her food supplies are interrupted. She has the fear of starvation would instantly crush the fear of general pillage of food supplies would ensue. Hence she has claimed sole possession of overwhelming fleets and must oppose to great advantage which the other powers urge the immunity of commerce upon the sea.

"Germany also has a case quite strong enough to give her the support of the nation."

YEAR OF 1909 WAS RECORD BREAKER FOR IMMIGRATION

NEW YORK Jan 8.—More immigrants arrived in America during the year 1909 than in any previous year, according to W. C. Moore, landing agent at Ellis Island. About 775,000 passengers entered New York last year, but Mr. Moore said he expected 1907 but Mr. Moore said many of the passengers two years ago were naturalized citizens returning.

The Italians led in numbers last year. An unusual feature was a largely increased immigration from Brazil.

BABIES BENEFIT BY NEW SKIN DISCOVERY
Stops itching immediately. Soothes and Comforts the Little Ones.
A demonstration of the efficacy and safety of this new discovery, is afforded when it is applied to the tender skin of infants who are tortured with rashes, chafings, scaly eruptions, humors and other skin troubles. Its effect is soothing, and the itching stops at once, the skin heals and is quickly restored to normal condition. In both infants and adults, pomade produces beneficial results from the first application. Eczema, acne, herpes, rash, tetter, etc., yield readily to its remarkable curative properties. Occasional applications will quickly banish pimples, blotches and complexion blemishes and will relieve and cure itching feet, scaly scalp, humors, etc.
Pomade can be had for 50 cents at any reliable druggist, particularly The Owl Drug Co., who make a specialty of it. Of the Emergency Laboratories, No. 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City. Will send a trial supply free by mail to any one who will write for it. This is sufficient to show results in twenty-four hours.

Talks on Teeth
BY
Rex Dental Co.
(Incorporated)
Ideal Dental Service

Here we choose dentists for their individual skill, for, verily, not every man is master of all the different phases of dental science any more than a musician is master of all musical instruments or a painter can paint in "oil" or "water color" and paint landscapes equally as well as portraits and vice versa.
The solitary dentist who takes a whack at the whole subject from extracting to laboratory work may do for some, but not for us—or you.
We first of all examine the teeth.
This calls for special skill.
Then the work is entrusted to the man best adapted to perform the work indicated, so the patient will be comfortable—and at ease.
THE ALVEOLAR METHOD of restoring missing teeth calls for expert service from beginning to end.
Dentists who come to us seeking employment attracted by the high wages we pay complain that our demands are unnecessarily severe.
One man said, "I am no jeweler." But we told him he must be as clever a craftsman as any jeweler and be a good mechanic as well.
And, more than that, we insist that he be gentle, kind, patient and kind, and sympathetic and then KIND.
The keynote is kindness—in this office.
"Work with a swift, sure, gentle touch," we tell them, and cultivate the gentle art of painlessness.
The result of all this careful attention to detail has started an endless chain of friends and relatives of patients in our direction who are tired of being tortured by dentists who believe a little pain is good for people.
Here is a case in point:
REX DENTAL CO.
Gentleness—the teeth that you put in for me some time ago are perfectly satisfactory. I have no hesitation what-so-ever in giving you a testimonial for the work you did for me. I will be glad to verify this statement to any other work but your Alveolar System will suit me.
You are at perfect liberty to use my name as reference, and should any one care to apply to me by letter, I will be glad to verify this statement to you very truly,
MRS. F. W. NORTON.

SUIT AN ECHO COUNTRESS WILL OF TIFFANY ROMANCE WED POLISH NOBLE

Plaintiff Is Poor Sewing Girl Whom Jeweler's Son Married
SHE WANTS ACCOUNTING OF LAWYER'S ESTATE

Charges She Got Only Part of Money Settled for When She Obtained Divorce

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Twenty-two years ago, young Tiffany, son of Charles H. Tiffany, came to a stir in the social world by marrying Emma N. Pierson, a poor sewing girl. He also caused trouble in his own family, which resulted in his getting $2,000,000 less than his brother. In the father's will, ten days after the wedding, the pair separated and Mrs. Tiffany ultimately got a divorce. Now the story of the romance is brought to the front again in a suit by Mrs. Tiffany against the estate of her lawyer, Charles A. Hess, for an accounting. She thinks Tiffany deposited with Hess approximately $40,000 for her use in lieu of alimony and intimates that she never received more than approximately $15,000. In fact, Mrs. Tiffany is not sure of anything, because, seemingly neither Tiffany nor Hess ever confided to her in connection with the divorce proceedings for desertion, which she won in Rhode Island.

WIDOW FIGHTS CLAIM.
Mrs. Ida Hess, widow and executrix of Hess, presents the claim of Mrs. Tiffany and is contesting it in the Supreme Court. She, too, admits she knows about her husband's books or his business affairs. Therefore Gilbert & Wessel of No. 45 Cedar street, counsel for Mrs. Tiffany, are endeavoring to get from the Supreme Court an order directing any one who now may have possession of Hess's books and papers to present them for examination so it may be seen whether, when he died, he had any money in hand belonging to Mrs. Tiffany. In her answer to the suit, Mrs. Tiffany, Mrs. Hess denies any money is due from the estate. She is represented by Mark G. Holstein of No. 128 Broadway.

HAD AMPLE TIME.
In Mrs. Hess's behalf it was said yesterday that Mrs. Tiffany asserts Tiffany paid the money to Hess in 1901, or seven years before Hess died and eighteen years before the beginning of the action.

"And in the eighteen years Mrs. Tiffany also was represented by Mr. Hess in many other transactions, which caused her to confer with him frequently," a representative of Mrs. Hess said. "During all those years she had ample opportunity to ask for an accounting and to obtain it by legal process if it were true that she had been defrauded. But until Mr. Hess is dead before demanding it in court. We are of opinion that Mr. Hess accounted to her for every dollar he owed to her long before he died. For an accounting was not begun until June, 1908, or almost a year after his death. No previous demand for an accounting had been made on the estate. As another evidence that Mr. Hess does not owe anything to her, the estate holds an assignment of an insurance policy for $100,000, which she gave as security for money which Mr. Hess lent her. It scarcely seems reasonable that if she knew Mr. Hess had in hand $35,000, or any other amount belonging to her, she would assign a life insurance policy to secure money advances which he made to her. We deny emphatically that anything is due to her."

Mrs. Tiffany, many years after she and her husband separated, asserted it was true she was merely a poor sewing girl when he married her.
But I belong to just as good a family as he does," she said. "I am one of the Piersons of Morristown, where I was born and where all my ancestors and all my relatives have been prominent in public affairs. My husband's family, however, never took any trouble to find out who I was. The Tiffany name, which I had married a penniless girl, and one whose name did not appear in the Social Register."

MEETS YOUNG TIFFANY.
"My romance began like most poor girls' romances begin. I was sewing for a living in a boarding house in Union square, almost opposite the great jewelry establishment. I was about 16 years old. I needed for several months for different persons in the boarding house. Often I had to run out to the fourteenth street shops. Sometimes I would slip into Tiffany's to see the beautiful jewels in the glass cases."
"One day I was introduced to a young man who turned to be Burnett Tiffany. He then was a clerk in his father's store and was receiving a salary of $500 a year. I soon learned Mr. Tiffany had made it a point to be introduced to me. He became acquainted with a young man who lived in the boarding house. Mr. Tiffany showed me every attention, and less than a year afterward we were married without his father's sanction. The ceremony was performed in a little, old-fashioned Methodist Church away down town. We went to a boarding house to spend our honeymoon."

"My husband continued to work for his father, but as soon as he announced the marriage he was told he had to give up the job and renounce all hope of inheriting anything from his father's estate. As a result we separated at the end of a few days. He simply kissed me and said 'Goodbye' and from that day to this we have not spoken to each other. That was fifteen years ago. In 1901 I got a divorce. My romance ended the morning my husband left me. I never shall have another, nor do I wish another romance."

LOST $200,000 A DAY.
It has been estimated that it cost young Tiffany just $200,000 a day for each day he lived with the bride whom he afterward deserted. When his father died, he was not even allowed to see the body because of the family bitterness caused by the marriage. Burnett received $2,000,000 less than his brother, Louis, and there were restrictions in relation to the money which was in the nature of a trust fund.
Charles L. Tiffany left a personal estate valued at $10,000,000, and the bulk of his property was bequeathed to Louis C. Tiffany and Mrs. Annie O. Mitchell, daughter. To Burnett Y. Tiffany only $1,282,228 was left, and it was placed in the hands of trustees. The testator said he thought an allowance of $200 a year would be enough for Burnett, unless a radical change should take place in his life and habits. He finally received $18,000 a year, and in 1904 fought in vain for $50,000 a year. Before then, however, he had married a Mrs. Solomon Kauffman, whom he had met in Madison Square Garden. He married her in 1905 on the day she was divorced. She was in Indian costume, selling hunting relics from the Woman's Fair. In the fight to force the trustees to increase his allowance, Tiffany said it was impossible for him to live as a Tiffany should on less than $30,000 a year, and he really thought it ought to be increased to $50,000.

Annual Demonstration of the Malleable Steel Ranges

Each year the Malleable Steel Range Company hold these demonstrations in every large city in the United States and Canada.—They take pride in pointing out the many improvements they are constantly making.—They are not content to be the manufacturers of the steel range that is the acknowledged leader of them all.—They are constantly striving to prove it.—That's why the Malleable Steel Range will always be the leader.
Our Malleable Steel Ranges cost no more, but are worth at least $25.00 more than any other steel range on the market are made from gray iron, which, after casting, is submitted to an annealing process, which burns out the carbon and other impurities that make cast stoves so brittle. It can be hammered, stretched and twisted without breaking. It will not warp, buckle or crack. This making practically an indestructible range.
Our Malleable Steel Ranges are lined throughout with asbestos millboard, placed between plates of Blueville steel—front, back, sides and bottom are equally protected, thus keeping the heat where you want it and preventing the walls and floors from being scorched.
THE ECONOMICAL SHALLOW FIREBOX saves in a year or so the price a Malleable Range costs.—The Malleable Steel pin water back never gets out of order and gives hot water in half the time an ordinary water back will.

MAY FORCE TAX ON HEIRESSSES
Judge Holds That They May Have to Pay for Their Noblemen

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Justice James W. Gerard of the New York Supreme Court declares that the State of New York should impose a tax on foreign marriages and on all fortunes that are inherited by aliens within the State. In an article in Collier's for January, he explained that by this way the State could collect a "percentage of the nobleman's winnings," and he declares he will try to have a bill to carry out his plan introduced at the coming session of the State Legislature. In the article he says: "In recent years only a few female inheritors of swollen American fortunes have been seen to marry in their own land. I claim that money should be spent where it was made, and that if those girls choose to become absentee landlords and draw what now amounts to a great annual tribute from the United States to spend abroad on amiable Italian and high-priced Highlanders, they should pay a tax."
"A woman who marries an alien becomes by law an alien. An alien has no constitutional right to take or hold property here. The State may expropriate it at pleasure to the inheritance of property by an alien."
"Formerly in this State an alien could inherit land only by coming here to reside and filing a declaration of intention a resident of any State. There was no imposed a State transfer tax as follows:

KIDNEY DISEASE IS AN AWFUL AFFLICTION
Yet if you will but heed nature's warnings at once you may prevent all the pain or you can stop the trouble—if you know how.
The uric acid poison that too often permeates the human system and results fatally to so many should be regularly passed off daily by the kidneys—if they are well.
But if they are not well, of course, they cannot perform perfectly the work assigned to them by nature and the result is very quickly shown in weak back, pains in the back, swelling of the ankles and feet, puffiness under the eyes, etc. These are the simple symptoms of kidney trouble, but they are the forerunners of diseased kidneys, and you know kidney disease is an awful thing.
Don't allow the kidneys to get out of order. You wouldn't care to take any chance with having Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Gall-stones, and the like, yet that is what you may have and likely will have by neglecting to help the kidneys when the kidneys are weak. The best way we know of to assist nature in restoring the kidneys to normal condition is by the use of DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. These wonderful pills are now almost universally used in this country and the results obtained by thousands of people are most gratifying.
DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills are harmless, as they contain no narcotics.

SPORTING WRITERS WANT DELANEY'S OPINION

VETERAN TRAINER AND MAKER OF CHAMPIONS

IS CAUTIOUS ABOUT GIVING LINE ON BATTLE AND CORBETT, MADE SUBJECT OF CONTRAST

Wolgast's Great Improvement During Last Year Makes Him a Worthy Opponent for Battling Nelson

By EDDIE SMITH.

FROM all sections of the United States, and from some of the larger cities of the foreign countries, have come requests to a Oakland man for his opinion on the coming Jeffries-Johnson boxing contest, which, it is presumed, will be staged on the coming fourth of July in some section of California, and that section, near the city of San Francisco.

This Oakland man is supposed to, and does not doubt, know more about Jeffries than any other man the country over. He is none other than Billy Delaney, maker of champions and veteran trainer of high class boxers. What this man Delaney does not know about the heavyweights fighters who have held the front ranks of pugilism for the past twenty years could be printed in a very small edition, in fact, that which he does not know is not worth knowing.

It is not passing strange, therefore, that the people of the outside world should be eager to know just what this man thinks of the chances of Jim Jeffries in the coming fight with Jack Johnson. It was Delaney who made it possible for Jeffries to become the champion of all champions and it is Delaney that many of the friends of Jeffries will try to have in his corner the afternoon the big fellow faces one John Arthur Johnson of Galvestone, Texas.

The veteran will, in all probability, not be in the corner of Jeffries and it is dollars to doughnuts that Delaney will not even see the big fellow prior to his stepping into the ring for the most important contest of his career. Said it is that Delaney and Jeffries have come to the conclusion that one can get along without the other, for put this pair together and they are hard to beat. The disagreement between Billy and Jim is one that is entirely their own business in every way, even though the friends of both men have often felt that they would like to patch up their little troubles in business that is not their own.

In this latter day of up-to-date newspaper work Delaney could gather in a small fortune by visiting the camps of the principals and giving his opinion on the outcome of the battle, but Billy will not do this and he is very conservative about giving out any opinion as to which of the big men will be returned the winner.

Way down deep in the heart of the veteran trainer he is of the opinion that Jeffries can not get back to his old-time condition, but he will not say as much and he is not going to let it be posted on the sign boards about town. All one can get from Delaney is that which would prove an interesting reading. He might give a private opinion to some of his friends but he declines the receiver of such information to secrecy and that means the opinion is not for publication.

After having talked with Delaney for many hours at different times during the past few months the writer has come to the conclusion that Delaney is in no wise prejudiced in his selection of the probable winner of the coming contest through any feeling that might exist between himself and Jeffries, but his strong belief in the slim chances of Jeffries getting back to his old-time form has led the old-timer to believe Jeff has taken a task upon himself that he will find a very tough one.

Delaney was with Jeffries and he knows the big fellow's habits well and his strong and weak points as well as it is possible for one man to know another and it would mean a great boost to the Johnson and Jeffries fight if he would positively declare himself for the black man. This he will not do, however, and the fans must listen and wait for further information before any one will know whether or not Delaney believes Jeffries will be beaten.

The suspicion exists among his friends that the veteran favors the black man but how strong one can tell. Delaney does not agree with many of the experts who have said that Johnson is not a high-class fighter. Billy is, and for that matter has been for years, of the opinion that Johnson is a great fighter and one worthy of the best efforts of any man the game ever knew, in an exchange of arms.

The wonderful length and cleverness of the black man, as well as his great endurance and cool head, have caused his feeling and the fact that Johnson has been overly cautious at times has not been taken by Delaney as an indication of the black man being "yellow."

Billy is rather cautious himself and he rather likes the man who will back away when stung and come back after the effects have worn off. Johnson has backed away lots of times when stung but has always been a trifle slow in coming back for more. This fact has not kept Delaney from believing that the black man is a great fighter, however, and the veteran has every reason to believe that Jeffries is in first-class condition he will favor Johnson as a probable winner.

WOLGAST LIKELY CHALLENGER.

Had Battling Nelson and Adolph Wolgast been matched to box forty-five rounds for the lightweight championship of the world six months ago, or for that matter, prior to Wolgast's fight with Lew Powell the fans would have taken about as much interest in the battle as they did in the Nelson-Jeffries fight. Nelson and Hyland drew a big house because the fans felt that Nelson would make a good showing, but the betting was all in favor of Nelson and few of the dopesters had any idea that Nelson would be beaten.

Prior to the time Wolgast boxed Nelson the ten-round no-decision bout at Los Angeles, which was announced by the southern press that the Milwaukee boy had the shade at the end of the contest, the fans figured him little chance with the Dane, but since that time he has shown that he is a fighter and he has had the exception of the "Harlem" Tommy Murphy fight at Pittsburgh and the fans have come to look upon him as the logical challenger of "the American" lightweight and the only man, aside from Freddie Welsh, who has a chance with the champion.

The reason for this is the fact that Wolgast has just struck his gait. Prior to this time the little Gorman has been developing and growing so rapidly that he has not had all his strength with him at all times and while he has not been beaten he has been prevented from showing the vigor and dash that he has during the past few months.

With the opening of last year Wolgast was meeting such little fellows as Danny Webster and Abe Attell, and while he was winning in the great majority of his contests he was still too small for the lightweights he was pitted against and this prevented him from making the showing he did with Nelson and Powell.

Since that time Wolgast has been on the improve and has come to the front so rapidly that the fans are at a loss to know where his dash will stop, and the fact that he is coming so fast will make it hard to pick a winner in the coming contest. It will be a battle between a seasoned fighter whom some believe is about to reach his limit, and a fast coming youngster, and these sort of contests are always hardest to pick.

MAY MEET IN ALAMEDA COUNTY.

The row over Hester's permit to hold the Nelson-Wolgast scrap may result in the lightweight championship being staged in Alameda county. It was announced late yesterday afternoon that the supervisors of San Mateo county turned the Mission Club promoter down that he would form an alliance with Jack Gleason and pull the affair off at Ocean View. If this was done the people of Ocean View would be able to see just what they can expect in the future in the matter of pugilistic attractions.

If the Jeffries-Johnson fight is eventually staged there, this battle would be a good advertisement for the fans and give them a chance to get the place well located prior to the big rush that is sure to accompany the Nelson-Wolgast fight. Gleason put in a bid for the Nelson-Wolgast fight to be staged at Ocean View, but as his bid was a percentage on the fighters gave it little attention with such big guarantees coming as Hester offered. Ocean View should prove just as good a stamping ground for fighters as Colma and when the fans once become educated to the fact that it is just as easy to cross the bay and come to this side as it is to go to San Mateo county the place will prove a paying investment.

With almost $16,000 guaranteed the fighters, however, and with nothing definite in the future, it seems to the man up a tree as if Hester had taken a big bargain on his hands in the promotion of the fight. It will cost at least $2000 to fit an arena up and with the expense of conducting the fight Hester will have to take in at least $20,000 to make the thing break even. Is it any more money?

San Jose High School To Have a Strong Team

The San Jose high school basketball team has just arranged its schedule for the coming season. The team was scheduled to play San Mateo on the 15th, but the date has been changed to the 22d of January. Redwood high will take the place of the San Mateo quintet for the 15th. The first game will be played in San Jose at the Y. M. C. A.
A hard game is expected with San Mateo on January 22. The team has been practicing faithfully and the Garden City adherents can see nothing but a victory for their representatives. Captain Fleming and Manager Jay Brown are hard workers and are doing much to help make the season a success.
The probable line-up will be: Forwards, Hester and Hazeltine; guards, Brown and Russell; center, Fleming (captain).

Military experts declare there is grave cause to fear that preliminary interest in the heavy-weight championship battle will precipitate a race war.

WOLGAST REFUSES TO SIGN UNTIL CASH IS UP

(By H. M. WALKER.)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8.—Sid Hester's articles of agreement for the Battling Nelson-Ad Wolgast lightweight championship battle were received here today, and promptly received the blue-pencil treatment from Jones.

The item which Ad's manager refused to swallow was the one specifying that Hester should deposit certified checks for the money due the boxers in the Anglo-California Bank of San Francisco.

"Nothing doing, nothing doing," said Jones firmly. "Hester must do business with us on a strictly cash basis. I will have nothing to do with any of his checks either certified or otherwise."

Jones also repudiated the section of the articles which says that "Tom Dillon" shall be the stakeholder. "John Clark is the man to hold the money," said Jones. "When Hester says Tom Dillon, it is just the same as though he said John Smith."

"We will place our $2500 forfeit with Clark and we will insist that Hester cash his checks and turn the coin over to Clark. Otherwise there will be nothing stirring will take Wolgast to Wheeler Springs within the next four days, where the Dutch Demon will be given a good rest. They figure to land in San Francisco about the first of February."

BURNS-O'NEIL BOUT AROUSES INTEREST AMONG FIGHT FANS

The Oakland Wheelmen night of boxing at the Piedmont pavilion next Wednesday night is attracting more than the usual amount of interest among the boxing fans on this side of the bay, especially among those who failed to see Jack Burns best Gunboat Smith in the twenty-round main event of Victor Garibaldi's show at the Dreamland rink last month.

Burns made a great hit by his showing in that contest and the fact that he is to appear in Oakland for the first time in his career has set the tongues of the fans to wagging. Tim O'Neill is to be opposed to Burns and has been in active training for the past week preparing for what he expects to be the best fight he has had since coming to the coast to show what he can do. O'Neill claims that the only time that he has been hit is by the first time in his career has set the tongues of the fans to wagging. It will be a stubborn contest, and after thoughtfully considering the merits of the two teams, the Burns chances of breaking the Thistles' string of victories looks good. If they lose it will be through the efforts of the Thistles' defense, which is keeping the Thistles where they are.

VAMPIRES VS. SAN FRANCISCO.

At Fruitvale the Vampires and San Francisco will meet, but the average footballer, who figures the game as an easy thing for last year's champions, will be greatly disappointed when he hears the final result. They are the champions of the coast, and today they will give the Vamps a strong run for the game. On the other hand, the Vampires realize that they have to win today's encounter to keep in the running for the league championship. A first-class "soccer" exhibition should be the outcome.

ALBIONS VS. BARBARIANS.

Notwithstanding the counter attraction at Freeman's Park, there is sure to be a large crowd at Alameda to see the Albions in action. No matter what team the locals are playing the same rabid following are always to be found, and today will be no exception.

Although only drawing with the Thistles last Sunday, the boys play as far the better football. The understanding between the half-backs was great, and the forwards played a capital game. Alton was somewhat indisposed, but

Thistles and Burns Will Struggle for Soccer Championship

(By A. C. GOLLAN.)

The Soccer league schedule will be re-run this afternoon, after a couple of weeks' lay off. During that time the followers of the game were treated to two fine games, the first being the annual international, and the second the benefit game between the Thistles and Burns.

Both teams were very evenly matched. Out of all four games today, there seems to be only one that will be hard to forecast. That is the Thistles-Burns match. The three other teams which will play on the right side are Independents, Vampires and Albions.

Freeman's Park will be the mecca of the "soccer" fans this afternoon, and there the records will be established for the first time in the history of the game. The Burns and Thistles will supply the sport—two of the strongest clubs in the league.

The Thistles have not suffered defeat this season and lead the league. The Burns are confident of winning this game, and look to have a good chance to do it. If they fail the Thistles will have captured the pennant, as they have only one game to play that they are doubtful of winning, and that their return game with the Vamps next Sunday. Their other two games are with the Caledonians and Independents.

BURNS ARE STRONG.

The Burns have a grand team, their only drawback being their inconsistency. The exception of McRitchie, the Thistles' goalkeeper, the Burns' defense has it all over the Thistles. Burns' defense has it all over the Thistles. Burns' defense has it all over the Thistles.

Of course the Thistles have a good forward line, but they don't play the passing game as they should. They are a stubborn team, and after thoughtfully considering the merits of the two teams, the Burns chances of breaking the Thistles' string of victories looks good. If they lose it will be through the efforts of the Thistles' defense, which is keeping the Thistles where they are.

BASEBALL THE GAME FOR BOYS, SAYS JURIST

By JUDGE F. F. GRAHAM.

I have been asked to write a few words on our national game, baseball. At the outset, I desire to say that the muscle of this country has fixed upon baseball as its favorite game. It is a glorious pastime as ever stirred the blood or stretched the sinews of an energetic race of men. Its devotees, though divided into different associations, and seeking to gain the fame which skill and activity alone can secure, are practically a common body in their enthusiasm.

Baseball today is one of the cleanest and most healthful outdoor sports of which any nation or climate can boast. In California, where we have the most glorious climate of the world, baseball may be indulged in practically every day of the year, and that is one of the reasons why California has sent forth so many of the famous baseball players of our country.

SCHOOLS INTERESTED.

Never in the history of our national game has the interest been manifested as it is being manifested today. Schools of every denomination are making it a part of their curriculum. Professors and teachers are beginning to realize that the first requisite of a clean and healthy body is a clean and healthy mind. So we find in many of our foremost educational institutions that baseball is being fostered to an extent hitherto unknown; teams being formed, and the game being taught to pupils from youngsters ten years of age up to the most advanced scholars.

I ask the readers of this article, "Can you imagine a more inspiring and uplifting sight than to see eighteen young boys, full of the open air, under the broad canopy of heaven, amid the green fields, struggling for supremacy in a glorious game of baseball—a game which quickens the eye and sends the good and blood surging through the veins and makes the body strong, robust, agile and manly, and which is absolutely free from all demoralizing tendencies?"

RULES SIMPLE.

To those who are inclined to lament the alleged degeneration of our educational institutions into mere schools of athletics, I would say that under a reasonable supervision by the school authorities, the exercise and pleasure derived from the game of baseball directly foster and stimulate study. The necessities of life—intellectual and physical education—should be made to cooperate. My experience has taught me that if a boy is too fond of athletics, he should be required, in a measure, to earn his fun by application to school work. On the other hand, if he be too fond of his books, he should be made to play; but the incidents are few, indeed, where any coercion is required to be applied to a boy to force him to play baseball; the average American boy takes to baseball as a young duck does to water.

later played up to his best form. Pike was in sparkling form, and his equalizing was a beauty. The same team will appear today, and with the much improved "Barbs" as opponents a capital game should be witnessed.

Training Alliance of Champ and Ex-Champ Causes Numerous Arguments as to Respective Ability of Boxers

By W. W. NAUGHTON

THE linking of the names of Jim Corbett and Jim Jeffries has evidently been the cause of numerous arguments as to the respective merits of the two men as boxers. The following is one of half a dozen communications bearing upon the same subject which was received by the writer:

Blue Canyon, Placer county, Cal.
December 26, 1909.

"Dear Sir: This said that the town of ours, like other towns of larger size, has caught that dreadful disease called 'fighting'. Some of the oldest sports among us delight in telling the younger ones of the fights and so discussions arise. An argument came up here the other night and it was agreed to leave the question to you to decide. It is: Who was the cleverer or more scientific of the two men—James J. Corbett and Jim Jeffries—when they fought at San Francisco? Cleverness as we take it embraces footwork, aliveness and boxing, and the real question at issue is: Was not James J. Corbett the most scientific boxer in the ring when he boxed Jeffries last? Yours truly,

"F. T."

F. T. asks a question that can never be answered or at least not in the way to settle a dispute. The best that I or any other critic can do is express an opinion on the subject and these are the arguments which critics are very prone to differ. Trying to decide which is the cleverer of a pair of boxers is no easier than reaching a conclusion as to which of two lovely girls possesses the more beautiful eyes.

In this particular case my opinion was on record before the men had reached their dressing room after the battle. Jeffries asked me if he had not outboxed Corbett and I frankly replied, "You did." It makes it patent that in my idea James J. Corbett at that time was not "the most scientific boxer in the ring."

WANTED TO OUTBOX CORBETT.

I watched the battle very closely. I knew it was the ambition of Jeffries' life to have it said that he had proven himself a better sparrer and ring tactician than world-famous Jim Corbett. Their collection of the first meeting between them always ruffled in Jeffries' breast. Pompadour Jim hit the conqueror of Fitzsimmons and Sharkey when and where he pleased and the crowd caught the spirit of the thing and gave vent to yells that were half cheers for Corbett and half jeers at Jeffries. It was a heart-rending, trying experience for the man who wore the heavyweight crown and it made him furious.

In the matter of cleverness the contest had such a one-sided aspect that by the time the twelfth round was reached Corbett, from being the underdog in the betting, sold at even money with the champion. Jeffries' face was badly pained, but he kept after the will-of-the-wisp in front of him and finally worked Corbett into a bad place in the third round. As Corbett himself declared it, he was too close to the ropes to stop to breathe and punch. Anyhow a left swing from Jeffries caught the other Jim on the jaw and the fight ended.

Corbett took no liberties with Jeffries in the matter of cleverness when they boxed later in San Francisco. Jeffries in his training vent in for plenty of ring life to have it said that he had proven himself a better sparrer and ring tactician than world-famous Jim Corbett. Their collection of the first meeting between them always ruffled in Jeffries' breast. Pompadour Jim hit the conqueror of Fitzsimmons and Sharkey when and where he pleased and the crowd caught the spirit of the thing and gave vent to yells that were half cheers for Corbett and half jeers at Jeffries. It was a heart-rending, trying experience for the man who wore the heavyweight crown and it made him furious.

I think Corbett soon realized that Jeffries had mastered considerable of the technique of the game since their former meeting. Corbett was lightning fast on his feet, but he did not feel and lead at Jeffries to the same extent he did at Ocean Island.

Jeffries evidently made up his mind that the Corbett misdirection was the part at which to direct his attack. He caught a fierce right-hander in the stomach as early as the second round and the effects of that punch remained with Corbett throughout the bout. As a matter of fact when ever Corbett sent an angry left jab at Jeffries, Jeffries rarely unaided more than a couple of his tantalizing punches before Jeffries countered him solidly on the body.

JEFFRIES SHOWED CLEVERNESS.

That, in my opinion, was where Jeffries outboxed his man. He kept remarkably cool in that fight and was guilty of no waste of effort. He soon had Corbett alive to the fact that it was dangerous to stand close and trade, and as a result Corbett kept his distance in the majority of the rounds.

In the seventh round Corbett circled round the ring at a lightning clip yelling half hysterically, "Why don't you knock me out?" It would have taken a Barney Oldfield to corner Corbett at the rate he was speeding just then. Jeffries grinned and bided his time. He knew that Corbett could not win by engaging in record-breaking footwork and he felt that he would get Corbett before many rounds had passed.

Jeffries rested up in the eighth round and there was a demonstration in favor of Corbett when the latter took advantage of Jeffries' leading tactics and rapped the big fellow repeatedly with light blows.

In the ninth round Jeffries went after Corbett in earnest and from that point on outboxed and outgaited him. True to his purpose of beating Corbett down with body blows the last two punches of the contest—a left and a right—were aimed at the body and as he withdrew from the effect of the attack his principal second, Tommy Ryan, threw a palm-leaf fan into the ring in acknowledgment of defeat.

It was said after the fight that from a standpoint of ringmanship it was the poorest display Corbett had ever made. On the other hand it was argued that Jeffries had shown the last two punches of the contest—a left and a right—were aimed at the body and as he withdrew from the effect of the attack his principal second, Tommy Ryan, threw a palm-leaf fan into the ring in acknowledgment of defeat.

Veterans Are Out for Basketball at St. Mary's

St. Mary's College has a large number of candidates out for the basketball team this year and Coach Faulkner is expected to develop a strong five for the series with Santa Clara College, Miller, Greely and Andrews, veterans of last year's basketball team, will be seen on the 1910 team. Among the most promising of the new material are Joseph Callahan, former captain of the Sacred Heart College basketball team, Frank Latulipe, who formerly played a forward and center at Colgate, Selbergh, the former Oakland high school player, and Dillon of last year's second team.

$3.50 Recipe Cures Weak Men—Free

Send Name and Address Today—You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, falling memory and limbs back brought on by overwork, and I am determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men and I am convinced it is the surest acting combination for the cure of debilitated manhood and vigor failure ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow men to send them a copy in confidence so that they may know what is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop dragging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what he believes is a quick-acting, restorative, upbuilding, spot-touching remedy ever devised and so cure himself at home quickly and easily. I have no other recommendation but to send a copy of the prescription free of charge in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

RUBBING WATER FOLLANSBEE HANDICAP

FLEET MARE TAKES MEASURE OF FAST ONES IN THE CLASSIC

Eastern Champion Makes Bold Bid for the First Honors, but Is Outgamed in the Stretch; Brilliant Sport All Day

By LEE DEMIER.

The Follansbee Handicap, which is one of the features of local racing, has been such for years, was today won by the fleet mare, Rubbing Water. Anson, the favorite, was never able to get near the winner except at the head of the stretch, when for one brief instant the horse looked to have a chance, but was a false hope, for Jockey Martin quickly bestirred his mount and she soon disappeared all doubt in the minds of her backers.

Jeannetta M., with Jockey Schilling up, ran her race and finished in third place, defeating the consistent horse at the head of the field for show honors. The balance of the field never had a look-in at any time. Jim Gaffney again proved himself to be a horse of some class, when he took the mile and seventy yard event from such good ones as John Louisa, Nafusa and Roseval. Roy Junior made a fine show in the run-off race of this affair as usual, but when the favorite made his move at the head of the stretch, the spectators could see that it was all over but the shouting. John Louisa was well thought of, and plenty of his backers were busy along the "silent row" placing their wagers on the lead or with the upfield finger.

From the lately arrived stable of H. G. Bedwell came a fine horse, and to get into a contending position, but failed to be satisfied with third money. John Louisa lasting it out gamely and securing the place.

BARR RUNS GOOD RACE.

J. L. Barr, held in the betting at the prohibitive odds of 11 to 10, won the first race on the card as his rider pleased. Jockey Schilling, who had the mount on the chestnut colt, was in command of the barrier went up and made every post a winning one. Metropolitan, which was in heavy contention, doubled in getting the place from Fridge. Lemoore, the latter held Lewis on safe for third money. Kild North came in for a heavy money, and the crowd was in the play just as he finished out the race. Kild could do as "as finish out the race."

Ray R. Tovar, from the Baldwin farm, will do better the next time. The Cruzador colt was slow to get going, but ran a fair race.

MISSION WORK PROGRESSES RAPIDLY

Volunteer Movement Gains
Recruits for Foreign Fields

WILL PUT A CHURCH
TO USE AS CLOISTER

Historic St. Louis Will House
the Order of Maria
Reparatrice

By V. V. FRANCIS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Every week seems to bring out something new and interesting in the way of reports from the Mission field or from those at home who are helping to look after and support the work. The close of the year marked the sessions of the Quadrennial Convention of the Student Volunteer Movement for foreign missions at Rochester, N. Y. This movement began in the year 1885 and the result seems to have justified the most sanguine hopes of the little band who called it into being. The primary function of the movement is that of a recruiting agency seeking to enroll a sufficient number of well-qualified volunteers to meet the requirements of the Mission boards of North America. Without any elaborate statement as to the success of the enterprise, the following statistics were submitted in the report read at Rochester. It was stated that the number of volunteers who had actually sailed was as follows: In 1902 at the Toronto convention it was reported that 750 volunteers had sailed during the preceding four years. In the quadrennium following, 1000 volunteers sailed, as was reported at the National convention in 1906. In the four years which have since elapsed, 1233 volunteers have sailed, the entire number reaching the magnificent total, since the beginning of the movement in 1885 of 4346. In regard to finances the yearly contributions are now $127,000, an increase of $47,000 since four years ago. There are at present 2084 Mission study classes in the higher educational institutions in this country and Canada, with a membership of 22,203 enrolled students, which almost doubles the figures reported in 1906.

The plans of the committee having in charge the annual collection of funds for the New York hospitals deserve the greatest praise for the successful management of all the preliminary arrangements, but unfortunately the weather was not auspicious. The greatest storm of the season was raging when Christmas Sunday arrived and the result to the collection was so disastrous that the following letter has been issued by George Macculloch Miller, President of the association.

"Owing to the severe storm and the almost impassable condition of the streets on 'Hospital Sunday,' the church attendance fell below that of probably any Sunday in years, with the consequence that the annual collection for the hospitals, on which their free work on behalf of the sick and destitute is to an extent dependent, was not half the usual amount. Inasmuch as the demand upon most of the churches respecting their collections puts a supplementary collection out of the question, I am urged to make an earnest appeal to all those members of the various congregations who were unable to attend their respective places of worship to remit their contributions to their pastors. I cordially comply with this request, and because of my knowledge of the pressing needs of the hospitals urge that contributions be sent as promptly and generously as possible."

CHURCH NOW A CLOISTER.
It may interest some of my readers to learn the use to be made of the fashionable church of which Father Ducey was so many years the Rector. The Catholic News says: "On Saturday morning, December 18, Archbishop Farley said Mass for the Cloistered Order of Maria Reparatrice in their new quarters at St. Leo's, in East Twenty-eighth street. During the lifetime of the late Rev. Thomas Ducey, this church had been the scene of many imposing ceremonies, as it had been the center of a warm-hearted charity that overtopped at times even parish unity, bringing peace and comfort to many an erring soul, to many a worn-out body. Father Ducey had endeared himself to all that knew him and his admirers were from every walk in life, as was seen at his funeral, when wealth and poverty jostled each other in their efforts to pay tribute to their pastor and friend. So it seems but fitting that St. Leo's with its varied history, should be set aside for something unique in the annals of the archdiocese; that parish lines should be broken down and this quaint edifice dedicated anew, as it were, to the greatest and noblest of all causes, the salvation of the human soul. It should be made in very deed, and in truth the temple of the living Jesus in the Sacrament of love. What a blessing it will be to the heart of the busiest city on the western continent! What a privilege to have God enthroned there drawing all to him by his tender words."

"Come to me all ye weary and find rest."

An interesting session of the International Zionist Congress was recently held in Hamburg, Germany. The Zionists have for their object the return to Jerusalem, the terrestrial Zion, of the Hebrew race. It is now a great many years since the association came into being and large funds have been contributed to it. There seems to have been a feeling of dissatisfaction with the investment of these funds and a resolution was passed favoring the limitation of the operations of the Jewish Colonial Trust, and the utilization of funds in Jerusalem. The delegates made no secret of their dissatisfaction with the present executive, David Wolffsohn, and Professor Warburg was elected president of the International Zionist Committee.

That was a very jolly Christmas celebration which took place in the Old Mariners' Church on the East Side of New York City one evening during the holidays. Almost 1000 sailors were present and when they stood up to take part in the singing the timbers rattled. Every great nation was represented by one or more Jack tars. The sailors were the guests of the New York Port Society, which was organized in 1819. A very interesting program had been prepared and after it had been enjoyed, the women's reception committee entertained the sailor boys with refreshments.

A new branch of the society was recently opened at the corner of Eleventh avenue, which is a point readily accessible to the men employed on the great ocean liners.

LEAVES TWO MILLION.
It is always interesting to me to read statements relating to the disposition of property made by Christian men and women through their wills. During the last week of December, there were several rather notable examples of this kind. Thomas Murdoch, a wholesale grocer of Chicago, died on Christmas day and by his will he disposed of an estate estimated at $4,000,000, of which over one-half was bequeathed to religious, educational and charitable institutions. The principal beneficiaries are the Presbyterian hospital of Chicago, the American Sunday School Union, headquarters in Philadelphia, and the Young Men's Christian Association of Chicago. Requests to relatives, friends, employees, churches and charitable institutions made the balance of the estate. Murdoch was born in Forres, Scotland, in 1829, and came to America in 1851. From 1854 to 1856 he was in the wholesale provision business at Buffalo. Thomas L. Addis of New Haven divided his property with great thoughtfulness. He left the General Hospital Society of New Haven $100,000; Grace Hospital, New Haven, $100,000; the Masonic Home, Wallingford, Conn., $20,000; and smaller amounts to various other charities. The residue of the estate was divided equally between the General Hospital Society and Grace Hospital.

Under the will of Mrs. C. Burns of this city, which was filed on December 30, $50,000 was made a trust fund for the education of young men for the Roman Catholic priesthood. One of the most gratifying signs of the times has been the successful intervention which has been rendered by the churches of New York during the strike of the shirtwaist makers. The Associated Waist and Dress manufacturers and their employees are made up almost entirely of people who are not Christians and it is a matter of profound thankfulness that the only solution which at the present time promises any relief to the intolerable situation, brought about by the strike has come from the joint action of Holy Trinity Church, Brooklyn and the Manhattan Congregational Church, New York. It would not ordinarily occur to one that the best place to discuss the merits of a strike was a church, but so widespread and intense has been the interest stirred up in this contest that those who took part in the meeting held for the purpose of seeking relief to the unhappy state of affairs felt that the proceeding had been entirely justified. That the whole community has a corporate responsibility towards the social conditions under which society exists has been clearly recognized, nearly being the cause of the strike being women naturally commanded the chivalrous interest of individuals who were not personally interested in the outcome of the strike, and partly because a strike of such large proportions occurring in the midst of so congested a population as that of Greater New York has attracted the widest possible attention without at the same time so inconveniencing any portion of the community as to stir up the acrimonious partisanship of such individuals as were finding their own comfort seriously interfered with.

VACAVILLE PRINCIPAL IS VICTOR OVER STUDENTS

VACAVILLE, Jan. 8.—Rather than close the Vacaville High school the board of trustees decided to allow T. J. Penfield, the principal, to remain. Penfield aroused a spirit of rebellion in the school hall some one put wine in the lemonade. Penfield had several students arrested, but they were discharged. The trouble resulted in the expulsion of Nathan Holt, Jr., son of Vacaville's most prominent citizen. Penfield attempted to use the rod on young Holt, who in turn attacked the teacher and the student was expelled.

Scientists Say Recently Discovered Illumination Is Cause of Phenomena

BOSTON, Jan. 8.—Neon, a newly discovered gas, is the cause of the aurora borealis, according to a statement made today by Dr. W. L. Dudley, head of the department of chemistry of Vanderbilt University, of Nashville, Tenn., before the division of physical and inorganic chemistry of the American scientific convention in session here.
